

TYPICAL REQUESTS NOTED IN ONE HOUR IN LIBRARY

Librarians have amusing requests, Miss Emerson says. For instance, in one hour recently, she recorded the following, which she says are typical: A story to read to my second grade; a picture of a giraffe; all the books on Robert E. Lee; some ink, please; new map of Europe; population of Waterloo; "Do you have some mecurochrome?"

Book on tests and measurements by Symonds; customs of Girl Scouts in other countries; back numbers of Design and Instructor; Bibliography of Sandburg; "I want that little music book with those little songs."

A book of college sayings; a book of poetry; good book for a boy 12 years old; last week's Franklin Times; any book on Miss Ferguson's reading list; illustrations of Coptic design; synopsis of House of Seven Gables.

Picture of a girl walking down the road by some artist; review of Shaw's Black Girl in Search of God; picture of Priscilla; magazine on education for reading report.
