UNA faculty authors to be honored by Collier staff during library week

In observance of National Library Week, April 17-23, the staff of Collier Library is hosting a coffee in honor of the university's faculty authors and special guest Mrs. T.S. Stribling, widow of the renowned Florence novelist.

The coffee will be held in the ground floor classroom of Collier Library, 9:30 - 11:30 a.m., Thursday, April 21. University faculty are invited to attend.

SPECIAL GUEST--Shown here in 1964 with her husband, the late T.S. Stribling, who was the noted author of several novels set in Florence, Mrs. Stribling will be special guest Thursday, April 21 at a coffee honoring faculty authors of UNA. The staff of Collier Library is giving the coffee in observance of National Library Week.
