Open House introduces new, modern facilities

Returning students have been pleasantly surprised to find the comforts and conveniences of the new, modern facilities structured on campus this summer. An open house was hosted by faculty and staff in August which officially opened the Flowers Hall annex, the expanded and updated Collier Library, and a new centralized computer center.

The annex will house a training room with a walk-in whirlpool, spacious dressing rooms, and other additions to allow trainers to better supervise care for student athletes.

Collier Library now has five floors to accommodate students. Included in the building is the computer center which is located in the original three story construction.

"These new facilities symbolize the University's commitment to excellence," said President Robert M. Guillot.
