

UNA EARLY COLLEGE

Student Handbook 2025-2026

The University of North Alabama is proud to offer our Early College program in which high school students earn college credits while still in high school. These students are high achievers who get a jump start on achieving their goals.

Our Early College program offers several options, including classes taught in the student's high school, on-campus face-to-face classes, and online classes. We look forward to having you join this elite group of outstanding students at the University of North Alabama.

This handbook is designed to provide you with valuable information about Early College policies and guidelines. Please read this handbook carefully and refer to it throughout your time in the program.

Why Early College?

Students who participate in Early College benefit in many ways:

- You will gain a head start over those who do not participate as EC (Early College) students achieve high school and college credit simultaneously.
- Students who participated in Early College have a higher GPA (Grade Point Average) than those who did not participate.
- Students who participated in Early College are more likely to graduate, and graduate in less time than those who did not participate.
- Students who participated in Early College spend less on their college education.¹

Additionally, as an Early College student, remember that you are a UNA student. You have access to all the services and benefits UNA provides its students, including tutoring, support services, and student athletic tickets.

Academic Expectations

UNA is proud of our outstanding EC faculty, and your Early College instructor is required to meet the same high standards as any other UNA faculty member. EC courses are highly selective, and you will find that your instructors expect more of you than in a high school course, but that is because they know you are capable of it. One difference you will notice between a high school course and a college course is that you will play a more active role in your education; it is your responsibility to attend class and submit assignments on time. You should expect to spend more time each week preparing for your EC class, and the responsibility for seeking help and keeping up with your course is on you—just as it is for all UNA students. Please keep these expectations in mind as you select which and how many EC courses to take each semester.

Academic Policies

As an Early College student, you are expected to adhere to all policies that apply to UNA students. These policies can be found in detail in the UNA Undergraduate Catalog.

As an Early College student, you are subject to UNA's Code of Student Conduct. The Code of Student Conduct addresses multiple areas with the aim of creating an environment that promotes the university's educational mission. You are responsible for knowing and adhering to the Code of Student Conduct.

¹ See Southern Regional Education Board. (2020). Dual Enrollment Research: A Comprehensive Review.

UNA has a strict policy on Academic Dishonesty. Cheating, plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty are not tolerated and may result in severe consequences, including failing the assignment, failing the course, or even expulsion from the program.

Specific information related to programs of study, grading, standards, and general education requirements can be found in the Academic Procedures and Requirements section of the Undergraduate Catalog.

Eligibility Requirements

- Early College is open to students in the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades of High School.
- Students must have a minimum 3.0 unweighted GPA to participate in the UNA Early College Program.
- Students must maintain a “C” average (2.0 UNA GPA) in UNA courses for continued participation in the UNA Early College program.
- Certain courses may have placement requirements (e.g., specific ACT scores, high school courses, etc.) as listed in the UNA catalog.
- Students must also meet all course prerequisite requirements.

How to Apply

1. Complete your online application.
2. Submit your official high school transcript and test scores*
3. Complete your Early College Course Selection form within your MyUNA account. (Certain courses, like English, Speech, and Math, require test scores or placement testing.)
4. You will be registered for your Early College Course by a member of our UNA Admissions staff.

Application Deadlines

Students are encouraged to submit their application as early as possible to ensure there is adequate time for admission and registration.

For information on academic calendars and registration deadlines, visit the Academic Calendars webpage.

New and Returning UNA Early College Students

New and returning Early College students must submit ALL required and acceptable admissions materials by the deadlines found on the Early College website:

- Early College application (for new students only).
- High school transcripts (for new students only). We only accept electronic transcripts; we cannot accept paper transcripts. Please reach out to your high school counselor for assistance with transcripts.
- Test scores (for new and returning students if taking a Math, English, and/or Speech course).
- All other required supplemental items as determined by the student's MyUNA account (including, but not limited to, Proof of Citizenship, Social Security Card, etc.).
- Course selection form (for new and returning students not taking their Early College course at their high school site).

We will be unable to register students who do not submit all required materials above by the deadlines found on the Early College website.

Registration Process

To register for Early College, follow the steps on this Early College Admissions and Registration webpage.

Student Financial Responsibility Instructions

Effective March 1, 2015, registration at UNA requires that students first read and agree to the Financial Responsibility Agreement set forth by the University. This agreement is a one-time agreement and will remain in effect throughout the student's career at UNA unless it is rescinded or altered at the University's discretion.

Until the agreement is agreed upon by the student, a registration hold will be placed on their account. The agreement outlines the student's commitment to pay all expenses incurred at the University of North Alabama.

- To access the agreement, students log into their UNA Portal account and navigate to: Self-Service Banner → Registration / Billing & Financial Aid → Student Financial Responsibility Agreement → Read and click "I agree"

Placement Testing

Early College students who wish to register for English 111 First Year Composition or Math 110 Finite Mathematics or higher must achieve a certain score on a standardized placement test. This can be achieved by taking the ACT or the placement tests UNA has designated for this purpose. Some placement tests have a cost associated with them.

Although not required for admission, ACT and/or SAT scores are required for placement in English and Math classes. We STRONGLY encourage students to seek out standardized testing first before placement testing as these may qualify the student for institutional scholarship consideration.

If you have taken or will take the ACT, please be sure to report your scores to UNA as this will save you time and money in the future. For more information on placement, please reach out to your high school counselor, or visit the Course Placement webpage.

UNA's test codes are:

- ACT code: 0014
- SAT code: 1735

Early College Tuition (Costs)

Early College course tuition information is available on the Early College webpage. Students will receive billing information by email through their UNA Portal account. Payment must be made by published deadlines established in the academic calendar in order to maintain enrollment. Payment deadlines are listed on the Registrar's Academic Calendars webpage.

Students who request to take a third class must be a junior or senior in high school and have a UNA GPA of 3.0 in at least 6 hours of UNA Early College coursework. Students will be charged full undergraduate tuition price for the third class. EC students are limited to three courses per semester. More information may be found on the Tuition and Fees website.

Cost of Textbooks/Resources

Students are responsible for the cost of course textbooks and course material. The cost of books varies by course, and some have no additional costs. Check with your instructor to determine if the course you are selecting will have additional costs.

Grades and Grading Policies

Students taking college courses for dual enrollment credit are creating a permanent college transcript that can affect future educational opportunities, such as future college admissions, scholarships, and financial aid as final grades will be posted on students' college transcripts.

Grade Reporting

UNA does not send report cards to students or parents. Students are encouraged to keep current with their course performance throughout the term, and to reach out to their instructor with any concerns about performance. At the end of the semester, grades will be posted online to your Portal account. Portal may be accessed by clicking the Portal link at the top of the UNA homepage.

Courses

Students enrolled in Early College at UNA will focus (in almost all cases) on courses that are part of the General Education curriculum. You might understand these as the “basics” that all students are required to complete, like History, English, and Math, for example. These are the foundational courses of any major or degree program that UNA students take in their first and second years at UNA. Completing these courses as part of Early College allows you to get a head start on your college education. For more information on the General Education curriculum requirements, see the Undergraduate Catalog on General Education components.

First Steps after becoming an Early College Student

Congratulations! We are delighted to welcome you as an Early College student. But, what next?

The following steps will guide you help you get started:

1. Obtain your UNA login credentials. Those credentials can be found in the UNA Early College acceptance email, and they allow you to access email, library materials, and Canvas (UNA's learning management system).
2. Visit the Instructional Technology Services website. ITS provides technical support, and they are broadly concerned with technology access. If your email does not work, or your login credentials fail, reach out to the ITS help desk through their website. Also, note that you are entitled to free Microsoft Office products. This can also be found on the ITS website.

3. Explore the UNA homepage. On the homepage, you will find links to various resources you will use as an Early College instructor, including the Library, Portal, the Registrar, Canvas, and much more.
4. Visit Canvas. Canvas may be accessed by clicking the Canvas link at the top of the UNA homepage. Here you will log in and find the link to your Early College class.
5. Visit the Canvas Support for Students website. Here you will find resources concerning Canvas-related questions or problems.
6. Log in to Portal. Portal provides students with a number of links, including email, schedules, final grades, transcripts, and billing. Portal may be accessed by clicking the Portal link at the top of the UNA homepage.

Course Withdrawal

We believe you can be successful as an Early College student, but we also know that sometimes life gets in the way. If you have done everything you can, and believe you may not pass your EC course, we encourage you to consider withdrawing. This will allow you to avoid a failing grade of “F” on your transcript. Withdrawals appear on the transcript with a grade of “W,” but a “W” does not impact your GPA.

To withdraw from a course taken at your high school:

To submit a withdrawal request, first notify your teacher. Your teacher will then reach out to your high school counselor who will complete the process. You are encouraged to follow up with your teacher and counselor to ensure your withdrawal is complete.

The deadline to submit withdrawal requests may be found on the Registrar’s Academic Calendars webpage. Withdrawal requests will not be processed that are submitted after the deadline has passed.

To withdraw from a course not taken at your high school (on-campus or online):

A student may withdraw from a course with a grade of W by the withdrawal period deadline indicated on the Registrar’s Academic Calendars webpage.

Any student wishing to withdraw from a class during the withdrawal (W) period may login to their secure UNA Portal and follow the same steps as when they initially registered, selecting “web withdraw” beside the desired course(s) and clicking “submit.” The student will be withdrawn from the requested class, and a notification will be sent to the student and instructor.

Becoming a UNA student after High School Graduation

- We would love to welcome you to UNA as a full-time student after your high school graduation. To do so, please ask your high school counselor to submit your official transcripts to UNA. You will also need to reapply for admission as a full-time student through your MyUNA account. If you attend UNA, your Early College credit will automatically be applied to your degree program, and you will not need to go through the credit transfer process.

Mane Card

The Mane Card is UNA's official ID card. As an EC student, you are eligible for a Mane Card, and it is available to be added to your mobile device. You do not need to come to campus to obtain your Mane Card. The Mane Card allows EC faculty and students to check out books from UNA's Collier Library, attend on-campus events at low or no cost, and provides access to student programs. There is no cost associated with obtaining a Mane Card. For more information, visit the Mane Card website.

Frequently Asked Questions

Does my high school have a dual enrollment agreement with UNA's Early College program?

In order to achieve dual enrollment credit, your high school must have a dual credit agreement with UNA. To check, visit our Early College webpage, and click "Dual Credit Agreement Schools." If your high school does not offer UNA's Early College dual enrollment credit program, please encourage your counselors and teachers to visit our Early College Professional Development website.

Will UNA Early College credit transfer to other universities?

Alabama Transfers is a system ensuring that coursework earned at public institutions in the State of Alabama will transfer to other public institutions. This means that your UNA EC courses will transfer to any public institution in the state of Alabama, but you will have to initiate that process with the other university; it is not automatic. If you are planning to attend an out-of-state college or university, you should direct questions about transfer credits to that institution. For more information, visit the Alabama Transfers website.

What EC courses are offered at my high school?

For the most current information on what EC courses are offered at your high school, you are encouraged to reach out to your high school counselor or teachers. If your high school does not offer UNA's Early College program, please encourage your counselors and teachers to visit our Early College Professional Development website.

I loved Early College during the school year. Are there Early College opportunities in the summer?

Yes, UNA offers online Early College courses during the summer. EC students are eligible to request 100- and 200- level courses. If you wish to enroll for Summer, you should follow the steps for registration found on the Office of Admissions website.

I took one or more Early College courses and soon I am graduating from high school. How do I become a full-time student at UNA?

Congratulations! We are thrilled to welcome you back to UNA, and count you as a full-time student. To do so, you will need to submit your high school transcripts through your MyUNA account. If you attend UNA, your Early College credit will automatically be applied to your degree program, and you will not need to go through the credit transfer process. Also, remember to apply for financial aid and scholarships by the deadline. Those deadlines can be found on the Financial Aid Webpage.

Should I take Early College or AP classes?

You may be familiar with the Advanced Placement (AP) program. It differs from Early College in several ways. Both AP and Early College offer college-level courses in high school. However, AP differs from Early College in that the course grade does not determine whether college credit is awarded. AP students, in addition to completing the course, must make a predetermined score on a standardized AP exam taken at the end of the course, and that exam has a cost. Early College students are not required to take such an exam.

I am struggling in my Early College Class. What should I do?

First, you should reach out to your instructor. They want you to be successful, and they want to help you. Additionally, as a UNA student, you have access to tutoring, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Visit Tutor.com by clicking on the left-side menu within your Canvas course. For more information, visit the UNA Success Center website.

Early College students also have access to all of our other student support resources, including Student Counseling Services, Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services, and our Pantry (assists with meeting basic needs).

I am doing poorly. Should I withdraw?

We believe you can be successful as an Early College student, but we also know that sometimes life gets in the way. If you have done everything you can, and believe you may not pass your EC course, we encourage you to consider withdrawing. This will allow you to avoid a failing grade of “F” on your transcript. Withdrawals appear on the transcript with a grade of “W,” but this does not impact your GPA.

To submit a withdrawal request, follow the steps laid out in this handbook in the “Course Withdrawal” section.

The deadline to submit withdrawal requests may be found on the Registrar’s Academic Calendars webpage. Withdrawal requests will not be processed that are submitted after the deadline has passed.

I am homeschooled. Can I participate in Early College?

Yes, we would love to have you attend UNA as an Early College student. Please follow the steps to apply as laid out on the Early College Admissions webpage. If you have any questions, please reach out via email to admissions@una.edu.

I am under 18 years of age. Do my parents have the right to inspect and review my education records?

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (“FERPA”) is a federal law governing the privacy of educational records. The law, also known as the Buckley Amendment, applies to all educational agencies or institutions that receive funds under any program administered by the US Department of Education. At the University of North Alabama, FERPA rights apply to all students. A student is a person who is or has been in attendance at the institution, regardless of the person's age.

If a student is attending UNA—at any age— the rights under FERPA have transferred to the student. However, in a situation where a student is enrolled in both a high school and UNA, the two schools may exchange information on that student. If the student is under 18, the parents still retain the rights under FERPA at the high school and may inspect and review any records sent by UNA to the high school. Additionally, UNA may disclose personally identifiable information from the student’s education records to the parents, without the consent of the eligible student, if the student is a dependent for tax purposes under the IRS rules.

In cases in which FERPA rights are retained by the student, students may complete a release form authorizing University faculty/officials to speak with any designated individual regarding student educational records. Students may complete a FERPA release by logging into their UNA portal account.

- Select ACADEMICS (left side of the screen all the way at the bottom) and students will see FERPA, Records Release. Click on Records Release and follow the prompt to add parents, parent, or guardian. Once submitted, their request will be sent to the Office of the Registrar for processing.

More information on FERPA can be found on the Registrar’s FERPA webpage. Questions about FERPA and student disclosure should be directed to registrar@una.edu.

I have an IEP (Individualized Educational Plan) accommodation at my high school? Will that automatically transfer to UNA’s Early College Program?

If you have an IEP at your high school and desire support and accommodations for your UNA course, you will need to contact UNA’s Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services. More information can be found on the Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services webpage.

Scholarship Opportunities

Early College Scholarship Opportunity

Students who complete Early College coursework get a jump-start on their college education and can save even more money by qualifying for UNA’s Early College Scholarship.

Visit the Early College Admissions webpage for more information, including funding amounts, eligibility, and deadlines.

Endowed Scholarships for Students

UNA offers a variety of scholarships, and you are encouraged to apply. Please visit the Endowed Scholarships webpage to learn more about scholarships offered by various colleges, departments, and offices throughout the University. Get started on your scholarship search now. For a complete listing of UNA's Endowed Scholarships, please visit our Endowed Scholarship website Academicworks.com. Remember to apply by the deadlines listed.

Distinguished Leader Scholarship

UNA offers the LEAD Scholarship to a graduating senior from each of our LEAD educational partner districts. This scholarship awards $10,000 per year for four years (totaling $40,000). More information on the LEAD Scholarship may be found on the Distinguished Leader Scholarship webpage.

Mane Card

The Mane Card is UNA's official ID card. All EC students are eligible for a Mane Card, and it is available to be added to your mobile device. You do not need to come to campus to obtain your Mane Card. The Mane Card allows EC students to check out books from UNA's Collier Library, attend on-campus events at low or no cost, and provides access to student programs. Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services

UNA's Office of Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services provides support and appropriate accommodations for students with learning, physical, and psychological disabilities. These services include initial determination and application of classroom accommodations, alternative testing program, academic guidance and study skills sessions, assistive technology, and alternate formats. To start the accommodation process, please visit the Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services page and select the "New Student Registration" (<https://una.edu/disability-support/aim/new-student-registration.html>)

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the University offers reasonable accommodations to students with eligible documented learning, physical and/or psychological disabilities. Under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Amendment Act of 2008, a disability is defined as a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities as compared to an average person in the population. It is the responsibility of the student to contact Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services to initiate the process to develop an accommodation plan. This accommodation plan will not be applied retroactively. Appropriate, reasonable accommodations will be made to allow each student to meet course requirements, but no fundamental or substantial alteration of academic standards will be made. Complete guidelines and requirements for documentation can be found on the Disability Documentation webpage. For more information and to request accommodations, the student should contact the DSS office at 256-765-4214, email to dss@una.edu, or visit Aubrey & Annie Looney Disability Support Services.

Title IX

The University of North Alabama has an expectation of mutual respect. Students, staff, administrators, and faculty are entitled to a working environment and educational environment free of discriminatory harassment. Both the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the State of Alabama regard sexual harassment as a form of sex/gender discrimination and, therefore, as an unlawful discriminatory practice. This includes sexual violence, sexual harassment, domestic and intimate partner violence, stalking, gender-based discrimination, discrimination against pregnant and parenting students, and gender-based bullying and hazing.

Faculty and staff are required by federal law to report any observations of harassment (including online harassment) as well as any notice given by students or colleagues of any of the behaviors noted above.

Retaliation against any person who reports discrimination or harassment is also prohibited. UNA's policies and regulations covering discrimination and harassment may be accessed at www.una.edu/titleix. If you have experienced or observed discrimination or harassment, below are some resources to contact.

Confidential Reporting

If a reporting party would like the details of an incident to be kept confidential, the reporting party may speak with:

- Student Counseling Services 256-765-5215
- University Health Services 256-765-4328
- North Alabama Crisis Hotline 256-767-1100 (hotline)
- Safe Place (domestic violence) 256-767-6210 (hotline)/256-767-3076 (office)

Formal Reporting

If a reporting party would like the University to investigate an incident, the reporting party may speak with:

- UNA Police 256-765-4357
- Title IX Coordinator 256-765-4223

Reports may also be submitted to the University online via:
