If you are currently in the 9th, 10th, or 11th grade, you can earn 3 hours of college credit and learn about business majors in only two weeks this June at UNA. There are no textbooks to buy and no tests to take when you participate in the Summer Business Academy course, MG 100: Introduction to Business. You’ll have lots of business and UNA related learning activities, exposure to UNA business faculty and current students from each department, and field trips to small, large, and non-profit businesses as well as the Shoals Entrepreneurial Center. Students will also work in teams to develop a business concept and present it on the last day of class.

We designed this program for high school students who want to explore business as a major in college or who just want to earn some elective credit. The two weeks are full of fun and the experience is an excellent way to get a taste of college. The UNA College of Business is excited to offer our Summer Business Academy this June to area high school students. Enrollment is limited, so register early! Please see your school counselor for full details and to complete an Early College registration form.
