COUNSELOR EDUCATION

Preparing Professional Counselors in Clinical Mental Health & School Settings

CLINICAL MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING

Master of Arts

The Master of Arts (M.A.) in Clinical Mental Health is a CACREP accredited 60 semester hour program of study. Graduates typically are employed in social service, mental health, and private practice settings. Students complete practicum and internship experiences in settings related to their career goals. The coursework content prepares students for National Counselor Certification, National Clinical Mental Health Counselor Certification and State Counselor Licensure.

SCHOOL COUNSELING

Master of Arts in Education

The Master of Arts in Education (M.A.Ed.) in School Counseling is a CACREP accredited and Alabama State Department of Education approved 48-51 semester hour program that results, upon graduation, in eligibility for certification as a school counselor in Alabama. Graduates typically are employed in public or private elementary, middle/junior high, or high schools as professional school counselors. Students complete a practicum and two internships in school settings.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT US

CURRENT STUDENT:

"I have enjoyed the UNA Counseling Program immensely! The professors were a joy to work with and invested in helping me succeed as a future counselor. I learned a great deal of new information, and gained a deeper understanding of previously learned material. I would recommend this program to anyone wanting to be a counselor!"

RECENT GRADUATES:

"I believe I received an excellent education in the Counseling Program at UNA. The professors were not only extremely knowledgeable of their field and areas which they taught, but also had practical experience and wisdom in various counseling settings. They also demonstrated a concern for the students and a desire to help students be successful."

"UNA's Counselor Education Department more than successfully prepared me as a counselor; the faculty and coursework contributed in my growth as an individual, which helped launch my career in counseling."

"Compared to my peers in the field I am more prepared and confident in myself and with the skills that I was taught at UNA while enrolled in the Community Counseling Program."

EMPLOYER:

"The UNA counselor I have been supervising is excellent. It appears that she had very good preparation for a full-time job in the counseling field. I have been impressed by her knowledge and professionalism."
