

Stacy Daniels is a versatile teacher, clinician, conductor, and soloist. He currently serves as the Director of Worship & Arts at Covenant Presbyterian Church in Huntsville, Alabama, where he oversees ensembles comprising both youth and adult musicians. Mr. Daniels is also the director of the Huntsville Community Chorus Association Treble Chorale (grades 6–8). With over 20 years of experience in teaching and performance, including public school teaching, he has contributed to both sacred and secular choral music across settings.

Mr. Daniels is frequently invited to serve as a guest conductor and clinician for honor choirs, festivals, and workshops. He has presented at conferences for the American Choral Directors Association (ACDA) and Georgia, Mississippi, and Alabama music education associations throughout the Southeast.

Choirs under Mr. Daniels' direction have consistently received superior ratings and top honors at both state and national festivals. His ensembles have been invited as guest choirs for collegiate honor choir festivals and, most recently, performed at the 2023 AMEA In-Service Conference.

Mr. Daniels is a graduate of the University of Montevallo, where he earned dual Bachelor of Music degrees in Choral Music Education and Vocal Performance. He holds a Master of Music Education degree with an emphasis in Choral Conducting from The Florida State University. He has received Kodály certification from the University of Montevallo Kodály Institute.

He is an active member of the American Choral Directors Association, the National Association for Music Education, and the Organization of American Kodály Educators. Mr. Daniels currently serves on the Executive Board of the Alabama Choral Directors Association and is a past president of the Madison County Choral Directors Association.
