Institutional Identity

HISTORY

The University of North Alabama traces its roots to 1830 and LaGrange College, the first state-chartered college in Alabama. The original site of LaGrange College was LaGrange Mountain in Leighton, Colbert County. Tuition in 1830 was $10 per session, and the college opened with 70 students and three faculty members. The main building had dormitory rooms, a chapel, the president's office, and two lecture halls. The school relocated to its current location in Florence from its original site in 1854. The institution would later become the first state-supported teachers college in the South and one of the first coeducational institutions in the nation.

THE UNA FIGHT SONG

Go, Fight for U-N-A
We are behind you all the way
Go! Fight! Win Old U-N-A
The Purple and Gold is here to stay
zWe'll roar on to victory
We'll send that team back on their way
Go! Fight! U-N-A
We are behind you all the way
(Chant)
Go! Fight! U-N-A
Go! Fight! U-N-A
Go! Fight! U-N-A
Go! Fight! Lions!

TRADITIONS

SCHOOL COLORS

Purple and gold are the school colors of the University of North Alabama. No one has ever ascertained who or what inspired their adoption. All that is certain is that the 1912 yearbook, published the same year as the inauguration of the football team, was named the "Purple and Gold." And these have been our beloved colors since!

LION PRIDE AND PRIDE ROCK

"Lion Pride" is a term frequently used by members of the UNA community to describe the intense level of commitment to school traditions and activities reflected among students, alumni, and friends of the University. Perhaps nowhere is this level of commitment more strongly expressed than in the University's Pride Rock tradition, which began in 1994. The Pride Rock is a 60-pound, engraved granite stone bearing the actual paw print of Leo II, UNA's second live lion mascot. Placed just behind the north end zone of all UNA home games, the Pride Rock is touched by players as they file past on their way to the field. The Pride Rock serves not only as a motivational tool for the players but also as a tangible expression of the deep well of pride, community, and tradition associated with the University of North Alabama and its athletic program.

SPIRIT HILL, TAILGATING, AND THE LION WALK

Pregame tailgating at Spirit Hill, an area adjoining Braly Municipal Stadium, has developed into a major UNA tradition. The tradition developed through the cooperation of the UNA Greek community, general student organizations, and alumni, and culminates with the highly popular Lion Walk, a pregame parade down Royal Avenue (next to Spirit Hill) that includes Lion athletes, cheerleaders, and the Marching Pride of North Alabama. The parade takes place before every UNA home game.

LEOS I AND II

On July 22, 1974, former UNA president, Dr. Robert M. Guillot, brought a 35-pound lion cub to the campus, and Leo spent the next 14 years "roaring" the school to victory. The original Leo died Jan. 20, 1988, and a great outpouring of support from the Shoals community resulted in Leo II being brought to UNA in July 1988. Leo II lived in the compound that once housed the original Leo and grew to a weight of more than 600 pounds at 11 years of age. In 1997, Leo II was selected as the nation's, "Second Best Mascot" by Sports Illustrated. He died in February, 2000.

LEO III

The tradition of housing live lions on campus continued with the addition of twin lion cubs being brought to campus on Nov. 18, 2002. Leo III and Una, brother and sister pair, were born in New Hampshire and were brought to their new home at UNA by their caregivers, Anne and Dan Howard. Una passed away in June of 2020 at the age of 17.

Leo III continues to reside in the 12,764-square-foot George H. Carroll Lion Habitat. UNA's other mascots are students who don lion costumes, one male and one female, to cheer the lions and to entertain the crowd. They also represent the University at athletic events and other school functions. Mascot tryouts take place each year, and the identity of the student mascot is kept secret for as long as possible.

VICTORY FLAME

The Victory Flame returned to the UNA campus in 1995 through the efforts of the UNA Alumni Association. An important University symbol, the Victory Flame burned on the UNA campus from 1962 to 1986 but was extinguished with the construction of the Guillot University Center. The new Victory Flame and Victory Garden stand between 601 Cramer Way and the Memorial Amphitheater, directly across the street from the flame's former site. The flame is lit after every Lion victory or significant event in the life of the University. A miniature replica of the Victory Flame also stands atop the Lion football dressing room at Braly Municipal Stadium.

MISS UNA SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Miss UNA Scholarship Program is an official preliminary for the Miss Alabama/Miss America Program. The Miss UNA Scholarship Program has been a UNA tradition for more than 31 years. The program provides an opportunity for the University's young women to compete for scholarship money and prizes. Each young woman is encouraged and mentored to develop skills that will enrich her personal and professional life beyond her university experience. Miss University of North Alabama spends her year in service to the University and Shoals community. She promotes the platform of her choice, makes official appearances as a University representative, and represents the University at the Miss Alabama Scholarship Program.

UNA FIELD FLAG

In the mid 1990's the UNA Alumni Association purchased a 60' x 60' field flag that is carried onto the field at Braly Municipal Stadium before all Lion home football games. There are 60 straps on the flag and as many as 60 Lion supporters carry the flag onto the grass at Braly. Before the start of the football season, campus organizations sign-up for their turn to carry the flag. The flag enters Braly from the south end zone and is rotated counter-clockwise on the field as the Lions make their pregame run to the sideline.

HISTORICAL MARKER

When the University of North Alabama football team won an unprecedented third straight NCAA Division II national championship in 1995, the Lions knew they had made history. But on April 30, 1998, the Lions got their own historical marker to prove it when the UNA Alumni Association, UNA Sportsman's Club, and the Florence Historical Society unveiled an historical marker on Pine Street next to the UNA football practice field. The marker commemorated UNA's three consecutive NCAA Division II football national championships from 1993-95, which made UNA the first school in the history of NCAA scholarship football to win three straight titles.

During the course of that three-year period, the Lions also posted a 41-1 record, making UNA the first school in the history of collegiate football on any level to win as many as 40 games in just three seasons. The Lions also held a record 27 consecutive No. 1 rankings in Division II.

MARCHING PRIDE OF NORTH ALABAMA

The Marching Pride of North Alabama was formed in 1949. It has represented the University at many different events during the past 68 years, perhaps most notably performing for President Jimmy Carter during his historic 1980 visit to neighboring Tusculumbia.

The band appeared in the award-winning movie, Blue Sky, starring Jessica Lange, Tommy Lee Jones and Powers Boothe, and also recorded a CD with famed musician and producer, Jimmy Johnson.

With more than 230 members, the group is the largest organization on campus and serves as a major contributor to school spirit, especially at athletic events. The UNA Marching Band performs at all home football games and local parades and travels the state performing in exhibitions at high school competitions. The band is known for precision marching and drill design, while entertaining with strongly played jazz standards.

LIGHT THE FOUNTAIN

The Harrison Fountain slumbers from frost until spring. President Kitts was awakened by the fountain “coming to life” during his first month on campus in March 2015, and he had the idea of making it an event for the entire campus to enjoy. The inaugural Light the Fountain ceremony took place Monday, March 21, 2016.

FOUNDERS' DAY

On January 11, 2020, the University of North Alabama inaugurated a new tradition by celebrating Founders' Day at UNA. As an institution, we date our history back to the opening of LaGrange College on January 11, 1830, so we celebrate the anniversary of UNA each year on or around that date. This January marked our 193rd anniversary as an institution of higher education. That's a remarkable accomplishment that should fill all of us with Lion Pride.

THE LUCKY DIP

What started as a prank has become a popular campus tradition. In the summer of 2013, the SOAR counselors told their freshman students that if they dipped a pencil in the Harrison Fountain on the first day of class, they would have good luck the entire semester. On that humid August day, the counselors gathered at the fountain to see if anyone would show up. They were amazed at the number of students who did. When the Student Government Association (SGA) got wind of it, they decided to make it an annual event that takes place each August.

Each year, student groups “step up” to raise money for campus infrastructure improvements. Step Sing takes place in the spring and features parodies and lyrical adaptations of popular music as well as choreographed dances and intricate costumes, all organized by students.

The University of North Alabama recognizes that parents and other family members play an important role in a student's life throughout the college years. Research shows that today's college students are in touch with family members using various communication methods every week, sometimes multiple times a day.

For parents, learning when to step in and when to step back during the college years represents a new challenge. You are your student's primary coach and mentor. Students benefit when their families understand and support the college experience, while encouraging students to take personal responsibility for the decisions they make.

The UNA One Stop Information Desk, as well as other departments throughout campus, are here to help parents as you work with your student to identify an appropriate level of involvement.

The Parent Role

Parents contribute to their student's success by:

- Understanding the student experience and knowing about resources available at the University.
- Knowing when to step in to help their student and when to empower their student to take responsibility.
- Becoming an active member of the University community by attending campus events, helping other parents understand the student experience, and advocating for and supporting the University of North Alabama.

The more you understand about UNA and about your student's transition to college, the easier it will be to support your student. Parents' greatest concerns for their students during the first year revolve around safety, finances, health and wellness, academic advising, and career preparation. Therefore, we will use the next day and a half to educate you on the ways UNA supports your students in each of those areas.

HELPFUL DEFINITIONS

ACADEMIC ADVISOR - A member of the UNA faculty who, through regular meetings, helps the student plan and implement immediate and long-term academic goals; provides advice and guidance to students on academic matters, such as course selections.

ACADEMIC YEAR - The academic year at UNA is the fall semester plus the spring semester. It does not include summer session.

AUDITED COURSE - A course that is taken without receiving a grade, it does not count in requirements for a degree. In most cases, the course cannot be repeated to receive credit towards a degree.

BACHELOR'S - An undergraduate degree awarded by a university upon successful completion of a program of study, typically requiring at least four years of full-time study. Common degree types include bachelor of arts (B.A.) which refers to the liberal arts, and bachelor of science (B.S.). A bachelor's is required before starting graduate studies.

BANNER - The official UNA student information database. Banner is accessed by logging into UNA Portal.

BOARD - Board usually refers to "room and board" if the student lives on campus in a residence hall. It is the cost of meals and is separate from room costs.

BURSAR - The University's official in charge of billing students for expenses such as tuition, fees, room, and board.

CANVAS - UNA uses the online learning management system called Canvas. Instructors use Canvas to distribute course materials, collect assignments, have discussions, or give tests. It is vital for UNA students to be familiar with Canvas. A mobile app is also available.

CLASSIFICATION - Students are designated as freshmen, sophomores, juniors, or seniors by the number of credit hours officially earned by the close of the previous term as recorded in the Office of the Registrar. The designations are as follows:

Freshmen (FR)..... 0 to 31 credit hours earned
Sophomores (SO) 32 to 63 credit hours earned
Juniors (JR) 64 to 95 credit hours earned
Seniors (SR)..... 96 to 128 credit hours earned

COLLEGE - A division of the university's academic organization, such as College of Business and College of Arts and Sciences.

COLLEGE CATALOG - This publication is a detailed overview of the University which includes its mission, programs, costs, admissions requirements, faculty and administration, degree requirements, classes and their descriptions, and more. A continually updated online version is available.

COMMENCEMENT - A graduation ceremony where students officially receive their degrees that takes place in May, August, and December.

CONCENTRATION - A specific area of emphasis within a chosen major. Usually optional, it's a tool to help customize the student's academic track to take a specific set of courses.

COURSE - A regularly scheduled class on a particular subject. Each college or university offers degree programs that consist of a specific number of required and elective courses.

COURSE NUMBER - Alphabetical and numerical code assigned to a class that designates the subject being taught and the recommended year in which the student should enroll. Courses primarily for freshman and sophomores are designated as 100 or 200; junior and senior courses are designated at 300 and 400. (Also see Section Number.)

CREDIT COURSE - A course that, if successfully completed, can be applied toward the number of courses required for achieving a degree.

CREDIT HOUR - A unit of measure representing an hour (50 minutes) of instruction during a semester. It is applied toward the total number of hours needed for completing the requirements of a degree. Most classes are three credit hours, meaning their total meeting time for a week is three hours.

DEGREE - An award conferred (awarded) by the University as official recognition for the successful completion of a program of studies.

DEGREE AUDIT - An official review by the Registrar's office that a student is fulfilling all requirements for their specified degree program.

DROP/ADD - The process to change a class registration from one course/section to another course/section. This is a specified time period in the earliest part of the semester. The Registrar's website has exact dates and instructions.

DISTANCE LEARNING (DL) - An option for earning course credit online from campus or non-campus locations. UNA uses Canvas for online courses.

ENROLL - To officially agree to instruction in a course and comply with the requirements for successful completion of the course.

FIRST-TIME, FIRST-YEAR STUDENT (FTFY) - A student attending UNA for the first time at the undergraduate level. Includes students enrolled in the fall term who attended college for the first time in the prior summer term. Also includes students who entered with advanced standing (college credits earned before graduation from high school).

FIRST-YEAR STUDENT - A student who has completed less than the equivalent of one full year of undergraduate work; that is, less than 30 semester hours.

FULL-TIME STUDENT - An undergraduate student who is enrolled in at least 12 credit hours for the semester. This is the minimum enrollment required to receive most financial aid and scholarships. Typically, successful completion of 15-16 hours per semester allows a student to complete the undergraduate program in four years.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE (GPA) - The GPA is figured by dividing the total of quality points accumulated by the total of credit hours attempted. For example, if a student has earned 96 quality points for 48 credit hours attempted, the GPA is 2.0. The GPA is cumulative. See Quality Points.

HOLDS - Most holds are placed on a student's account because of outstanding fees or overdue account balances. However, a hold is not always financially related but requires some action on the part of the student before it can be removed. Students are notified of account holds when they are denied access to their account information. The hold is removed from the student's account once the student has resolved the cause of the hold.

INTERSESSION (INTERIM) - The time period between end of spring semester and start of summer session. A class offered during intercession is typically three weeks long but is equivalent in credit hours to a regular semester.

MAJOR - The concentration of courses in which a student enrolls to earn their undergraduate degree. Students must indicate their major by the start of their junior year and are admitted into the upper division offering the major if certain academic standards are achieved.

MIDTERM - An examination given in a course at the mid-point of the semester to evaluate how a student is mastering the instruction being provided. Midterm grades will count toward the overall grade earned for the course.

MINOR - A secondary concentration of courses that complements the primary course of study for a student's major. For example, a student may major in Secondary Education with a minor in Spanish that will prepare them to be a high school Spanish teacher.

PART-TIME STUDENT (UNDERGRADUATE) - A student enrolled for fewer than 12 credits per semester.

PORTAL - UNA Portal is the online program students use to register for classes; accept financial aid; and view unofficial transcripts, final grades, and holds. UNA Portal also provides students emails and serves as the official form of communication.

PRE-REGISTRATION - The process of enrolling in a class before the semester in which the course is offered. A student who is taking fall semester classes can pre-register for spring classes.

PREREQUISITE - A course that must be taken before enrollment in another course.

PROGRAM - An academic program is comprised of the core, required, and elective courses that lead to a degree. At UNA, an undergraduate academic program leads to a bachelor's degree in a particular area of study. These academic programs might offer seminars, internships, workshops, and online courses in addition to traditional live classes. Academic programs leading to a bachelor's degree require four years of study.

QUALITY POINTS - Based on the grade received for each regular course completed. UNA uses the 4.0 grading system. Each semester hour of credit is equal to 4 quality points if passed with a grade of A; a B equals 3 quality points; a C equals 2 quality points; a D equals 1 quality point. No quality points are given for grades of F or for noncredit courses. A student must earn a minimum GPA of 2.0 on all work attempted at UNA and on all work attempted in the major and minor fields (when required). Example: When the student makes a B in a credit course that has 4 credit hours, the student has earned $3 \times 4 = 12$ quality points.

REGISTRAR - This is the University's official who coordinates all student academic records. Processes include pre-registration/registration; drop/add and withdrawals; grade reporting; transcripts; degree audit; commencement; athlete eligibility; veteran credentials; class schedule brochure; Banner student software.

REGISTRATION - The process of officially enrolling in a class for instruction for a selected semester.

RESIDENCY - Refers to permanent address of a student in determining in-state and out-of-state tuition. The Office of Admissions has the most current criteria that a student must have to make a change in residency.

SCHEDULE BUILDER - This is an online schedule planner in UNA Portal for registering for classes. It lists available courses and sections that are offered for the particular semester (fall, spring, summer). Students design their schedule around the courses available, allowing for meal times, work hours, and study breaks.

SECTION NUMBER - The section number refers to the specific class period that a course is offered. This number appears as a hyphen and two digits after the course number. There may be more than one section offered for a course, but a student can only attend the section selected when registering. Changing section number requires the drop/add process as determined by the Office of the Registrar.

SEMESTER - One of the two parts of the academic year. UNA has a fall semester and a spring semester. Each semester is a 17-week period. Fall semester is August to December; the spring semester is January to May.

SUMMER SESSION - A summer session is shorter than a regular semester and not considered part of the academic year. UNA has two 4-week summer terms: one term in June and one in July. Some courses are offered as an 8-week term. An intersession term is offered between end of spring semester and beginning of June summer session.

TRANSCRIPT - The official document containing the record of a student's academic performance and testing history. It is certified by the signature of the Registrar and has the UNA official seal and watermark. Unofficial transcripts are accessed through Portal in the student's Banner Self-Service record.

TUITION AND FEES - The cost of classes, labs, and miscellaneous fees (such as health services fee and student activities fee). Tuition is charged per credit hour.

UNDERGRADUATE - A college or university student who has not yet received a degree, particularly a bachelor's degree.

UPPERCLASSMAN - A student who is classified as a junior or senior.

WITHDRAW - To officially discontinue a student's enrollment from the University for the selected semester.

LION LEARNING

ACADEMIC ADVISING

As a UNA student, you have an academic advisor who will assist you in achieving your academic goals. These advisors understand that the transition from high school to college may be a stressful one, and they are able to help you in that transition. Should you need some specific resources, such as tutoring or counseling, they know whom to contact and how to get you the assistance you need. Scan the QR code to learn more.

Have you been checking your UNA email regularly? If not, you definitely need to be. You are missing out on important information and updates not only from your advisor but from UNA!

How do I find the name of my advisor?

1. Log in to your UNA Portal account.
2. Click on the Student Profile tab.

3. You may have to scroll down to view your advisor. Use the UNA directory located on the UNA homepage to find the contact information for your advisor. If no one is listed, please come by the University Success Center, and we will connect you with an advisor.

What should I expect from my advisor?

Have you been checking your UNA email? You should expect to receive many emails from your advisor. You will need to meet with him or her several times during the semester to check in and let them know how you are doing. You should schedule your first appointment within the first three weeks of the semester, another one around mid-term, and the third before you are scheduled to pre-register for spring and summer classes.

Your advisor cannot help you if you do not maintain contact! Your advisor should be a valuable resource for you. They can answer questions regarding university requirements, policies, and procedures, and can direct you to resources across campus if you need assistance.

When you go see your advisor, do the following:

1. Make sure you know where your advisor's office is so that you won't be late to the appointment.
2. Check to see how your advisor would like to schedule meetings with you.
3. Prepare for your meeting. Write down any questions or concerns you have, so you don't go blank when you are in the meeting.
4. When you meet with your advisor to talk about the next semester, bring your course requirements for your program of study. Develop a tentative schedule before the meeting.
5. Keep your appointment, and be on time!
6. Talk with your advisor about your career plans, why you chose the major you did, any long-term goals you might have, or any problems you are having adjusting to college life or college study.
7. Don't be afraid to ask questions!

UNDERSTANDING THE CURRICULUM

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENT COURSES

Courses that fall under this category are designed to make you a well-rounded student in liberal arts. The General Education curriculum is essential to students' attainment of the following five Core Competencies at UNA:

- 1. Effective Communication – the ability to communicate orally and/or in writing in a variety of contexts;
- 2. Critical Thinking – the ability to state, understand, and evaluate arguments and evidence;
- 3. Use of Existing and New Technologies – the ability to use information technologies;
- 4. Analysis and Reasoning – the ability to understand and evaluate complex data, information, or arguments, and;
- 5. Seeking Out and Acquiring Knowledge – the ability to understand and employ various methodologies for the purpose of seeking out and acquiring knowledge.

The “gen eds” or “basics” are organized into the following categories: Written Composition, Humanities and Fine Arts, Natural Sciences and Mathematics, and History, Social and Behavioral Sciences.

CREATING A BALANCED CURRICULUM

Take a combination of major and minor courses along with General Education courses each semester. Don't rush to complete the General Education courses early in your academic program; take them throughout your college career.

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Courses that fall under this requirement are specific to your major or program of study. These courses are designed to give you in-depth knowledge of subjects that are required for you to be successful in your future career.

MINOR REQUIREMENTS

Most academic majors require a minor in another discipline. Choose a minor that best complements your major or is a subject about which you would like to learn more.

ADDITIONAL GENERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR UNA STUDENTS

All students are required to complete one writing emphasis course in their major field of study. These courses are designed with a W following the course number. A student with more than one major will be required to pass a writing emphasis course in each major. EN 112 is a prerequisite for all W courses.

All students are required to attain computer literacy through discipline-based instruction within their major fields or through an additional three-semester hour computer course, either CIS 125 Business Software Applications or CS 135 Computer Skills for Problem Solving.

Finally, all UNA students must do the following:

- Complete a minimum of 120 semester hours in order to graduate; all courses in the General Education curriculum as well as the major and minor must be completed.
- Maintain a 2.0 GPA overall as well as in the major and minor to graduate.

Your advisor will be an invaluable resource to you throughout your college career, but you must take responsibility for your education, major choice, and a good GPA. Make certain you are familiar with the requirements of your academic program, all deadlines, and specific college policies.

COURSES/CREDITS

Each course at UNA is assigned a credit value based upon how many hours per week the course meets. While credits range from one to six hours, most courses you take will be three to four credits. A three-hour course typically meets for three hours each week during the regular academic semester. Summer courses meet for an accelerated amount of time per day.

INFORMATION ON ACADEMIC ADVISING:

The number of credits you take each semester is known as your course load. The minimum course load for full-time students at UNA is 12 semester hours. UNA offers banded tuition, meaning undergraduates will pay the same basic tuition rate for a course load of 12 to 18 credit hours per semester.

DUAL ENROLLMENT AND AP SCORES

All Dual Enrollment credit must be sent directly from the college from which the credits were earned, even if the credit is on your high school transcript. To do this, contact the Registrar's office at that college and request that a transcript be sent to UNA. Early College credit for classes taken at UNA is already part of your UNA transcript.

AP scores for tests taken in early May of this year are not released until mid-July. It is important that you have your AP scores sent directly to UNA for proper credit. If you have not done so, log in to your College Board account and request that this year's scores be sent to UNA. If you have any AP credit from the 11th grade, you need to have those AP scores sent directly to UNA.

You may change your class schedule through UNA Portal through the last day of pre-registration should you receive AP credit for a course in which you previously enrolled. Please give some time for UNA to receive and upload your AP scores to your transcript.

GRADES AND GRADE POINT AVERAGE (GPA)

Every course you take for credit will be assigned a letter grade. These grades range from A for superior quality work to an F, which means failure. Quality points are based on the grade earned for each regular course completed. On the 4.0 system, each semester hour of credit is equal to four quality points if passed with a grade of A, to three quality points if passed with a grade of B, to two quality points if passed with a grade of C, and to one quality point if passed with a grade of D. No quality points are earned with a grade of F or if you have a W.

Your grade point average or GPA is calculated by dividing the total number of quality points accumulated by the total number of credit hours attempted. GPA can be calculated on a semester-by-semester basis, as well as cumulatively throughout the course of a student's academic career.

TRACKING AND PLANNING DEGREE PROGRESS

Degree Works is an audit and evaluation tool designed to help a student track their degree progress. Degree Works will list all requirements needed to earn a degree and will track your completion rate of requirements based on what courses you have completed at UNA, transferred into UNA, and have in-progress to ensure timely completion of your degree.

Degree Works also has a 'What If Analysis' tool. This tool is designed to allow you to see how your completed course work would apply to a different program should you wish to change your program of study. Degree Works is NOT a replacement for advising.

Students may find Degree Works instructions by scanning this QR code:

REGISTRATION TOOLS

UNA's registration schedule is based on semester hours completed, not attempted. The first to pre-register are seniors, followed by juniors, sophomores, freshmen, and special students. You will receive an email from the Registrar's office through your UNA Portal email about the dates that pre-registration are available for the upcoming semester. Pre-registration for spring and summer semesters takes place at the same time.

DATES AND DEADLINES

It is your responsibility to stay current with important academic dates and deadlines such as term start/end dates, end of W period, last day to drop a class, billing due dates, and holidays. The academic calendar for each semester can be found at the Registrar's website (una.edu/registrar) under Class Schedules.

FIRST SEMESTER COURSE LOAD

We recommend that students enroll in between 12 and 15 hours for their first full-time semester at UNA. That is equivalent to four academic courses (3-4 semester hours each). All science classes have a required lab component and are four semester hours of credit.

In order to maintain your scholarship and/or financial aid, you must earn a minimum of 27 semester hours of credit during the fall and spring semesters. Dropping a class or failing a class reduces the number of completed hours you have earned. If you have financial aid, always check with Student Financial Aid before dropping a class.

To complete the 120 semester/credit hour minimum for a bachelor's degree in four years, you must average a course load of 15 credit hours each fall and spring semester, excluding summer hours. The majority of UNA students takes online summer courses, either here or at a college close to home, at some point in their academic career to stay on track to graduate in four years.

As you think about your fall semester schedule, keep in mind several things:

- Your academic strengths/weaknesses – Those classes that are more challenging to you will require more of your time outside of class; don't forget about tutoring if you need further assistance in a class.
- Your work hours - The more hours you work, the smaller your course load should be. If you must work, we recommend 10-15 hours of work/week during the semester.
- Outside activities (e.g. band, athletics, fraternity or sorority, student organizations) – Although an important part of a college student's life, these activities can take time away from studying.

ACT SCORES

Your ACT scores are an important part of where you begin your academic career at UNA. The ACT is just one measure of college-readiness but is universally accepted as a good indicator of your ability to do well in college classes. There are courses at UNA that require ACT subscore minimums. If your ACT subscore in a subject is low, you may need to develop your skills more by taking additional coursework before attempting classes that will allow you to earn General Education curriculum credit.

UNA Criteria are listed in the Undergraduate Catalog at una.edu/catalog.

CLASS SCHEDULE

There is no universal class schedule for every first-year student. The actual classes recommended by your advisor will depend upon your ACT composite and subscores, any AP, dual enrollment, or Early College credit you have earned as well as major requirements.

Here are a couple of things you need to keep in mind as you begin to finalize your fall schedule:

- If you are not a morning person, don't register for an early class! Sometimes class availability is limited, but to the best of your ability, schedule classes during your more awake times.
- Do not schedule all of your classes on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, or Tuesdays and Thursdays. Work to schedule classes all five days of the week, so you can have time to absorb material in class and go over lectures while they are fresh on your mind. The best schedules have some classes on MWF and some on TR. You will still have time to study, work, exercise, and relax.
- Do schedule a lunch break or similar time into your schedule. Your brain needs energy and rest.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact your advisor or University Advising Services (advising@una.edu or 256-765-4722). We will be happy to help you!

TRANSITION TO UNIVERSITY STUDY

College coursework and study will be different from high school. College is more than acquiring information and regurgitating it for an exam. Learning how to learn will help you develop critical thinking skills that will prepare you to research, identify, and analyze information in a variety of contexts and life situations. You will be challenged to think for yourself rather than parroting the beliefs and ideas of your family and friends. Your mind should be opened and broadened with new perspectives and ideas from professors and peers alike. You will strengthen your thinking skills from experiences both in and out of the classroom. The skills you develop at UNA will affect how you live your life in the career that lies ahead and in your personal life.

Take a moment to think back to your high school days and how you studied and prepared for class. If you did no preparation for tests in high school and you believe that you can do the same for college, you are sadly mistaken. You must take time to prepare for exams in college. Most professors expect you to learn the course material and be able to apply what you have learned to new situations. It is not about rote memorization.

How was your attendance in high school? Did you skip classes or days just because you wanted to? What were the consequences? Probably not very severe. However, college is much different. Should you miss or skip classes in college, the professors still expect you to learn the material that you missed on your own and still come to the next class prepared for that day.

Did you procrastinate on a paper or project? If so, you will find that procrastination is not a successful strategy in college. You must have the self-discipline to work ahead and anticipate deadlines. Should you miss a deadline for a paper or project, don't be surprised if your professor does NOT give you a chance to make it up. In fact, you will very likely earn a grade of "0" on that paper or project.

You have a great opportunity ahead of you as you begin your college career and you need to decide how you will make the best of it. Students who excel have learned that self-discipline and making wise decisions go hand-in-hand. These students understand that the choices they make have consequences. They have found the balance among academics, extracurricular activities, fun, and friends. They have mastered the transition from high school to college. Here is a short list of some of the differences between high school and college. Take a proactive approach to your college career rather than a reactive one!

HIGH SCHOOL

Parents monitor when you sleep, eat, get up, and go to school.

Teachers tell you what to study for tests, how to study, and when to study.

Your class schedule is determined by the guidance counselor.

You attend each class every day.

You see your teachers every day, and they get to know you pretty well.

Teachers provide daily and weekly instructions on assignments and upcoming tests.

Teachers cover small amounts of material and test frequently.

Cramming the night before a test could have earned you an A or B.

You allow your parents or friends to motivate you.

COLLEGE

If you live away from home, there is total freedom for you. Even if you live at home, there is usually a relaxed freedom.

Professors expect YOU to know what to study, how to study, and when to study.

YOU create your own class schedule with the assistance of your academic advisor.

Students attend classes on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, or Tuesday and Thursday, or at night.

Because class meets less frequently, professors often don't get to know their students as well. Larger class sizes also hinder professors from getting to know you. Use their office hours for developing a better rapport with them.

Professors distribute a syllabus on the first day of class and/or post the syllabus online. The syllabus outlines assignments, papers, projects, and exams for the entire semester.

Professors cover larger amounts of material, hold you responsible for reading the textbook and any other related material that you need to help you understand concepts, and test much less frequently.

Cramming the night before a test might earn you a C but more likely a D or F.

You decide what is important to you and what you want out of life. You must motivate yourself.

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS

The first day of classes is the most important day of the semester. Professors will cover the ground rules, so to speak. You will learn the expectations for classroom participation and attendance and how those affect your course grade. You will also learn how your grade will be determined in each class. There may be some information on how to get help outside of class. All of this is accomplished with the course syllabus.

The course syllabus outlines the course objectives, expectations, reading and paper assignments, dates of exams, University policies, and your professor's contact information. Keep your syllabi in a handy location so that you can reference them easily. Most professors also place a copy of the syllabus on Canvas for your courses.

The typical components of a syllabus include:

- Name and contact information – includes office location, phone, and email for your professor.
- Office hours – times in which you can visit the professor to ask questions and seek advice; no appointment for these times is necessary. Just drop by.
- Class information – course description as well as any pre-requisites necessary for the class. Information about your textbook and other materials in the course are also listed here.
- Class websites – online tools that may help your academic performance. Some of these resources are mandatory (i.e. online homework that is graded), and others contain resources for you.
- Grades and Grading Policy – lists how you will be assessed in the course, the grading scale, and how individual assignments and exams are weighted. Special circumstances that can affect your course grade are also addressed.
- Academic Integrity – includes the professor's policy on how he/she will handle instances of academic dishonesty, plagiarism, and the possible outcomes for the situation.
- Accommodations – states that, per Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act, reasonable accommodations may be made for students with eligible documented learning, physical, and/or psychological disabilities (with the assistance of Disability Support Services). No fundamental or substantial alteration of academic standards will be allowed.
- Title IX statement – The University of North Alabama has an expectation of mutual respect. Students, staff, administrators, and faculty are entitled to a working environment and educational environment free of discriminatory harassment. Faculty and staff are required by federal law to report any observations of harassment (including online harassment) as well as any notice given by students or colleagues of any of the behaviors noted above.

TIPS FOR CLASSROOM SUCCESS

There are some unwritten rules about your time in the classroom that you need to know. Your professor might have additional rules on his/her syllabus so pay attention to those as well.

- Be prompt. Nothing disrupts a professor's train of thought more than a student who shows up late to class.
- Turn off your cell phone and NO texting during class. Some professors have very strict rules about cell phone usage in class.
- Listen attentively. If you must sit in the front of the class to do that, then move up.
- Take good notes. If you don't know how, please attend one of the study skills workshops offered by the University Success Center.
- Read the syllabus carefully and often. Professors vary in their grading and attendance policies and the consequences for missed assignments and tests.
- Communicate with professors. If you have a legitimate reason for missing class, notify your professor via email or phone.
- Do not leave class early except for an emergency. Getting up and leaving without telling your professor before class has concluded is distracting and rude.
- Ask questions. If you have a question about a class lecture, reading assignment, discussion, or something in the textbook, don't be afraid to ask your professor either during class, after class, or during office hours.
- Seek help. If you are not pleased with the grade you earned on your first exam, stop by the professor's office during office hours and ask for recommendations on how to study better for the next exam.
- Find a tutor. If you are struggling with a course, seek tutoring through the University Success Center.
- Utilize advisement. If you decide you must drop a class, discuss this decision with the professor and your advisor.

TIME MANAGEMENT

As you prepare for your college coursework at UNA, you must pay attention to how you will manage your time. College is NOT like high school; you will not be successful if you just pay attention in class and not devote time to studying and understanding the material. The standard expectation is that for each hour you spend in class, you should spend between two and three hours outside of class studying the course material, reading assignments, completing assignments, and preparing for exams. For a 12-credit semester, that means you should anticipate spending 36 hours a week either in class or studying. That is equivalent to a full-time job! So treat college just like a full-time job, which it is.

Ask yourself these questions:

- Would I just skip going to work? So why skip going to class?
- Would I not pay attention to what I am doing at work? So why would you not pay attention in class?
- If I had an assignment or project due at work, would I elect not to do it? What would be the consequences?

HERE IS WHAT WE RECOMMEND:

FOR A GREAT START TO THE SEMESTER

- Get a planner. Whether you use a paper-pencil calendar, your smart phone, tablet, or laptop, create a system to organize your class schedule, weekly time commitments (such as class and lab, work, volunteering), and your upcoming assignments, deadlines, and exams. It is crucial to create a system that allows you to make modifications to your calendar throughout the day. Use whichever system you believe you will use regularly.
- Organize your syllabi. After the first day of class, a great “best practice” is to organize your syllabi and note dates and deadlines that you can place in your planner. Doing this will organize your semester into specific week-blocks which allows you to determine when is a good time to make a trip home or when you need to stay at school to study for three exams the following week.
- Identify one or two places conducive to efficient studying. This means “unplug.” No loud music, television, or talking that will distract you. Noise has been shown to limit your ability to concentrate and causes you to take significantly more time to get your work done. You should be able to get comfortable, but not so comfortable that you fall asleep. Make sure your lighting is adequate since eye strain can cause physical discomfort.
- Study at the time of day when you are most alert. If you study when you are tired, you are more likely to fall asleep or just waste your time because you won't remember anything you have read or studied.
- Take advantage of breaks between classes. If you review information that you have just covered in class during a break in between classes, you will find that you significantly increase your ability to retain that information. Also, you won't have to spend hours studying material because you are already familiar with it!

- Spend daytime hours on campus – If you organize your schedule between daytime hours, you are treating your college experience as a full-time job. Completing assignments in breaks between classes and labs will leave your evenings free for eating with friends, time for extracurricular activities, or spending time just hanging out and unwinding from the day.
- Organize and review your notes within 24 hours after class. You will remember more information from class, and you can add additional notes from lecture because you remember what was said.

The University Success Center can help you investigate and fine-tune your time management plan.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT TEAM

Everyone needs help and support to succeed. At UNA, all you need to do is ask, and we will help guide you through your educational journey and help you make informed decisions. It will be your job to get to know these resources and utilize them during your time here. Take the time to find the resources and people who will support you on your academic journey. Here is a short list:

ACADEMIC ADVISORS

Your advisor is your “go to” person on the UNA campus. He or she is a partner with you to help you achieve your academic goals. Your advisor will support you, learn about your interests and strengths, and challenge and empower you to meet and exceed your goals. Your advisor might be professional advising staff, or faculty, but two things are certain: They can answer your questions or direct you to the person who can, and they are in your corner!

In order to maximize your relationship with your advisor:

- When you meet with your academic advisor throughout your time at UNA, always be prepared and ready to talk about your interests, goals, strengths, and any areas in which you might need assistance. Planning in advance for your advising meeting is critical!
- Listen up! Your advisor has specific knowledge about University policies, academic procedures, course scheduling, and how to take advantage of University and campus-wide resources. Pay attention and take their feedback seriously.

FACULTY

Your faculty will push you to think critically, engage with course material in new and exciting ways, and challenge you to integrate what you are learning into your everyday life. Remember, UNA faculty have chosen to work at this undergraduate institution which is student-centered. You matter to them, and they should matter to you. Make use of faculty office hours, introduce yourself after class one day, and ask questions during class and/or lab.

PEERS

On occasion, you will be asked to work collaboratively with other students in your class on assignments. Additionally, forming study groups is a great way to learn and interact with your classmates. Peers and classmates can be an invaluable resource to you throughout your college experience. Remember they are going through the same thing you are in a class. And perhaps they have a different explanation of a concept with which you are struggling.

UNIVERSITY SUCCESS CENTER

When you want to improve your study skills or adjustments to campus, you can attend one of the workshops offered free for UNA students. The available workshops focus on improving:

- Time management skills
- Understanding learning styles
- Note-taking skills
- Transition to University
- The study cycle
- Goal setting skills

If you would like help with your study skills one-on-one, please contact the University Success Center at 256-765-4722 or scan the QR code.

CWE WRITING CONSULTANTS

The Center for Writing Excellence (CWE) offers individual or group consultations that may either be in-house or online. The Center's mission is two-fold:

- to provide all UNA students with instruction and writing resources;
- to provide UNA faculty with teaching resource support and professional development opportunities in Writing Across the Curriculum (WAC) and Writing in the Disciplines (WID).

To schedule an appointment with a writing consultant, visit: tutortrac.una.edu and select Center for Writing Excellence.

MATHEMATICS CONSULTANTS

Do you need help with your math homework?

Do you suffer from math anxiety?

Does your mind go blank whenever you take a math test?

Then consider a visit to the Mathematics Learning Center, where experienced and knowledgeable undergraduate UNA students are eager to help you and to answer your questions. All tutoring is FREE of charge and scheduled on an individual basis.

The MLC is dedicated to offering support to students enrolled in UNA mathematics courses and other courses which require mathematics (such as dosages in Nursing or calculus in Quantitative Methods). Our goal is to provide assistance to students as they work on understanding and mastering the concepts presented in math courses.

You have access to one-on-one consultations, whether you need help:

- developing basic math skills;
- understanding math concepts; or
- understanding complex math principles.

The Mathematics Learning Center is here to help you improve:

- your understanding of mathematics principles and concepts;
- your ability to apply math principles and concepts;
- your mathematics study skills;
- your mathematics test-taking skills.

To schedule an appointment with a mathematics consultant, visit tutortrac.una.edu and select the Mathematics Learning Center. You may also call the University Success Center (256) 765-4722, email successcenter@una.edu, or visit the University Success Center to make an appointment.

TEXTBOOK AFFORDABILITY INITIATIVE

The library has many of the textbooks required by your professors that you can borrow and use. These courses include BI 101, HI101, EN111, HI201, AR170, and many more. You can check on the library website to see if your book is on reserve, or look for these symbols in your syllabus:

Perhaps your professor has assigned a free Open Educational Resource as your textbook for the semester. These are materials for students and teachers that are either in the public domain or have been released under a license that allows them to be used and shared with others for free. These are also available through Collier Library at no charge to students. To choose classes that use Open Educational Resources, just look for the designation showing “Zero/Low Cost Textbooks” on the course listing page.

FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE

The University of North Alabama is committed to making the first year of college a success for each student. The First-Year Experience Program is designed to help new students achieve three goals: First, it helps students get oriented to UNA; second, it helps students develop critical academic and personal management skills; third, it enables students the opportunity to explore majors and career possibilities. The most visible dimension to the program is the seminar component which is taught by faculty or UNA professional staff.

THE FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE SEMINAR (FYE 101)

The seminar is a critical component of the First-Year Experience. Here, you will meet new people, connect with faculty and staff, and discover the UNA and Shoals communities.

FYE Seminars are themed, one-hour classes. Themes can involve possibilities for majors, such as Business, Education, Nursing, or History. The themes can also involve areas of interest to students like the Career Center or Service and Leadership. Seminar instructors determine the activities and assignments of the course, often times with your input, so your participation is important.

LEARNING COMMUNITIES

Learning Communities (LCs) are small, diverse groups of First-Year students and faculty who share common intellectual and professional interests.

Each Learning Community at UNA is focused on a theme or interest area and consists of a group of three courses: two General Education courses and one First Year Experience (FYE) course.

A small group of students take these courses together, providing a supportive learning environment for students to cultivate lasting relationships with each other and their professors.

Additionally, each Learning Community will complete an experiential learning project that could consist of field trips, service projects, or research to get students more deeply engaged in their interest areas.

For Students:

Studies have shown that students who participate in Learning Communities have higher GPAs and retention rates than students who do not. There are many other benefits as well, such as:

- meet other like-minded students with similar interest
- ease of registration with a single CRN number automatically enrolling you in all three courses of the Learning Community
- getting to know your professors better; and
- an opportunity to participate in an experiential learning project.

To participate in a Learning Community, tell your Academic Advisor at Orientation.

GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT

THE OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Your college education prepares you for your future career and also to be an informed citizen of the United States and the world. UNA's Office of International Affairs (OIA) offers opportunities for you to meet the world right here on campus.

LET US HELP YOU EXPAND YOUR WORLDVIEW.

UNA is home to more than 500 international students from nearly 60 countries. The largest numbers of inter-national students recently have come from India, Ja-pan, Democratic Republic of Congo, South Korea, Bangladesh, Vietnam, China, Saudi Arabia, The Baha-mas, and Ecuador. Other countries are also repre-sented on campus in smaller numbers.

Each semester the Office of International Affairs, lo-cated in Powers Hall, offers programming and events to all UNA students. Participation is free, and you do not want to miss these great learning and networking opportunities as you establish yourself at UNA.

- Conversation Partners – Native speakers of English are needed Tuesday and/or Thursday from 3 - 4 p.m. in Powers Hall to have informal conversations with interna-tional students who are working to improve their English skills. Games and conversation prompts are provided. It's a great program if you need volunteer hours.
- Travel with Me series – This event features students providing international food, drink, and informative activities about their home countries. It occurs at 3:30 p.m. on the first Thursday of most months during the school year.
- International Education Week – Celebrated every year in the third week of November, IEW features our signature event, Passport to the World, and other events pro-moting intercultural learning.
- Global Learning Community – The Global Learning Community (GLC) provides a living opportunity that encourages cross-cultural learning through daily interactions, intentional programming, and service-learning activities.
- Navigator – UNA students who assist the Office of International Affairs in welcoming new international stu-dents and in planning and hosting events such as Passport to the World and the Travel with Me series (open to everyone)
- COIL – Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) courses bring UNA students and faculty to-gether with colleagues from other cultures to collaborate, learn, and work together on class assignments and projects.

UNA values the contributions of international stu-dents. Intercultural exchange creates rich learning ex-periences that help develop an appreciation of interna-tional cultures and customs within our community.

All events are posted in Campus Groups. For more infor-mation, visit una.edu/international.

A NOTE FOR FAMILIES • • • • •

INDECISION IS NOT UNCOMMON, BUT IT CAN BE OVERWHELMING. ENCOURAGE YOUR STUDENT TO SEEK OUT EVERY RESOURCE THE CAREER CENTER OFFERS - AND TO DO SO EARLY AND OFTEN!

The Career Center works with students to explore their interests and abilities, select a major, and set career goals. The Career Center will also assist with résumé development, interviewing skills, and provide resources that will guide your student to future success. A parent's role in the career decision-making process can be very beneficial to your student's success.

PLEASE REMEMBER THESE IMPORTANT FACTORS:

- Encourage your student to explore options, get involved, research various majors and career choices, and use the Career Center as a resource.
- Listen to your student, and keep an open mind about their likes and dislikes. Knowing that you will listen is key to helping your student make a decision.
- Support your student as they talk to you about choosing a major or career, and empower them to make their own decision.

CONSIDER THIS:

Students who participate in self-discovery and exploration of occupational information tend to have decreased career-related anxiety.

It is estimated that 75-85 percent of students will switch majors at least once before they graduate

Freshmen have become increasingly anxious about selecting a major, and anxiety has become the most common mental health issue among college students.

Students who are open to exploration and change their major are more likely to graduate than those who stay in a major they are not interested in.

DISABILITY SUPPORT SERVICES

OUR SERVICES

The Disability Support Services (DSS) office provides support and appropriate accommodations for students with learning, physical, medical, and psychological disabilities.

A student must register, request accommodations with DSS, and be approved by the DSS Advisory Committee for academic accommodations. We ask students to begin this process as soon as possible, as accommodations are individualized and approved on a case-by-case basis.

If you are a student with a disability, please contact our office to discuss how you can arrange academic accommodations.

OUR MISSION

The mission of Disability Support Services (DSS) is to facilitate appropriate and reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. It is our goal to ensure that students with disabilities have an equal opportunity to achieve their academic goals while maintaining the integrity of UNA's academic program requirements. DSS provides reasonable accommodations for qualified students.

Not all disabilities are VISIBLE

ACCOMMODATIONS

Possible accommodations for qualifying students may include, but are not limited to:

- Extended test time
- Recording lectures with professor's notification
- Alternate formats and assistive technology
- Distraction-reduced testing
- Priority registration
- Interpreter services (ASL/CART)
- CCTV and magnification tools

DSS staff are also available to provide the following services:

- Accommodation assistance for qualified students
- Academic guidance
- Study skills instruction
- Alternative testing
- Assist qualified students with the transition to college
- Presentations on disability-related topics
- Faculty and staff consultation (awareness) on working with individuals with disabilities
- Referrals to the Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services (ADRS)
- Information regarding community and campus resources

DOCUMENTATION

- All accommodations are arranged on an individual basis. Students must provide qualifying medical or psychological documentation that indicates the specific need for a reasonable accommodation.
- Documentation must adequately verify the nature and extent of the disability in accordance with current professional standards and techniques, and it must clearly substantiate the need for all of the student's specific accommodation requests.
- A high school IEP or 504 plan is not sufficient documentation of disability for receiving accommodations at the university level.

LION LIFE

STUDENT FINANCIAL AID

Student Financial Aid processes federal aid and scholarship awards used to assist students in paying for their college expenses. Federal funding includes Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant, Work Study, Federal Student Loans, and Parent/Graduate PLUS loans. To apply for federal student aid, students must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at studentaid.gov. To complete the FAFSA, you and one parent will need a FSA ID, username and password combination that allows you to sign your application. Parent and Graduate PLUS loans are applied for at studentaid.gov. Students must renew their application each year to continue receiving federal financial aid. Scholarship programs include our excellence scholarships and endowed scholarships. For a full list of scholarship programs and application processes, please visit our website una.edu/financial-aid/scholarships.

Outstanding requirements may prevent financial aid from disbursing in a timely manner. To prevent this from occurring, please check outstanding requirements requirements by logging into the UNA Portal Account, clicking on the Financial Aid Dashboard within the My Financial Aid section, then selecting Current Aid Year to see any out-standing requirements. Make sure you review any questions from the Financial Aid Office on the Home tab and respond.

The Financial Aid Office sends all communication to your UNA email address. It is your responsibility to keep your UNA email account active and to check messages frequently.

RECEIVING FINANCIAL AID

When all requirements have been met, your financial aid will disburse into your student account. Students receive financial aid in two installments (one half is disbursed for fall semester; the second half is for spring semester), unless otherwise noted. Disbursements are made directly to your student account. First time freshman student loan borrowers receive their first loan disbursement 30 days after the beginning of their first term of attendance. If you are receiving a federal student loan for one semester (for example fall semester only or spring semester only) your loan will be disbursed in two installments with one disbursement at the beginning of the semester and the second disbursement at mid-semester.

Financial aid funds will pay tuition, fees, contracted room and board (where applicable), and other related educational expenses, including, but not limited to, charges from Health Services, the Library, and University Police. If all charges have been paid and a credit results, remaining funds will be returned to the student via a refund check or e-refund.

MAINTAINING ELIGIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL AID

All undergraduate and graduate students enrolled at UNA must be making Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) towards graduation to receive federal financial aid. The SAP guidelines are set in accordance with regulations issued by the U.S. Department of Education. The progress standards include both qualitative and quantitative components:

1 GPA Requirement
Students must meet the University's minimum academic GPA requirements for their respective academic class level.

2 Completion Rate
The completion rate is a percentage of classes completed to attempted hours. This includes all course hours attempted at UNA, as well as any course hours which may have been dropped or for which there was a failing grade.

3 Time Frame
A student is allowed to take a maximum of 150 percent of the published length of their education program to complete their degree.

Complete details on the University's Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy, including reinstatement and appeal options, are available at una.edu/financial-aid/satisfactory-academic-progress.html or upon request from Student Financial Aid.

WHERE CAN MY MONEY BE SPENT?

DINING DOLLARS:

All undergraduate students taking on-campus courses, enrolled in 12 hours or more, participate in the Dining Dollars program. A $150 fee is charged to student accounts automatically when the 12-hour criterion is met for the fall or spring semesters. Dining Dollars may roll over for any semester a student is actively enrolled during each academic year and expire July 31. Dining Dollars can be used at all on-campus retail dining locations for food or merchandise purchases.

LION LOOT:

Lion Loot can be used at all dining locations, and also for printing in the library, and for anything in the Bookstore.

HOUSING AND RESIDENCE LIFE

Welcome to your UNA Home! Housing & Residence Life's (HRL) mission is to provide inclusive communities that engage students in exceptional living and learning experiences within safe, affordable, and well-maintained environments. Read on to learn about the basics of living on campus, how to use HRL resources and staff, policies and procedures, and making the most of your residential experience!

GET AN APPLICATION

Housing assignments are distributed monthly depending on when your application and contract are submitted. Your assignment, roommate information, move-in reservation link, and related information will be sent to your official UNA email account. You may find specific information on the application process, identifying a roommate, how room/hall assignments are made, and opening weekend at una.edu/housing.

GET A MOVE-IN TIME

Our move-in reservation system will open July 15, but you must have your hall/room assignment before you sign-up for an arrival time. The reservation link will be available at una.edu/housing on July 1 at 10 a.m.

- Early move-in options will be available for university affiliated reasons.

GET CHECKED-IN

Move-in can be exciting and stressful – for students and parents. Expect a busy day, but try to enjoy the experience.

There are several things you can do in advance to make your arrival a little easier, and we'll be happy to help you once you arrive!

- Residents: You will receive traffic instructions before arrival, and we offer drive-through check-in for your convenience.
- We have a limited supply of items to assist with moving, so bring any dollies, hand trucks, or carts that you may have!
- Pack and label all your items! Printing your name and room number with a bright, bold Sharpie marker goes a long way toward making sure that your items arrive at the correct location!
- Use as few vehicles as possible to pack items, and leave your U-Hauls at home! We have an amazingly beautiful campus, but the scenery doesn't leave much room for unloading zones, so the less congestion the better!
- You will be directed to parking areas immediately after unloading, so wear your walking shoes as there will be some back and forth involved!

GET COMFORTABLE

Preparing for move-in may be a bit overwhelming, but we have an amazing amount of experience helping students make their transition to living on campus. We provide each resident with an extra-long twin bed (80 inches), a closet or wardrobe, a desk and chair, a dresser, and wireless internet connection. We recommend contacting your roommate before moving in to avoid duplicating oversized items. A detailed list of what to bring and what to leave is available at una.edu/housing.

- Approved appliances include: mini-fridge (4.3 cubic feet or less) and microwave (700 watts or less), individual coffee makers (Keurigs), blenders, hair dryers, and vacuum cleaners.
- Must-have student survival items include: sheets, pillows, blankets, towels and washcloths, alarm clocks, laundry baskets/bags and detergent (Did we mention that laundry is free?), toiletries, computers/laptops, dishes/silverware, first-aid kit and prescriptions, insurance information, cleaning supplies, toilet paper, and surge protectors.
- Things that may make life easier include: bicycles, televisions, radios, storage boxes, fans, decorations, blue painter tape for hanging items, carpet or rugs, futons, snacks, personal property insurance, and photos of those you may miss.
- Items that you cannot keep on campus include: pets (except fish in a 5-gallon tank), candles, space heaters, oil-based and wax electric air fresheners, halogen lamps, open coil appliances, routers, weapons, fireworks, explosives, cooking appliances such as grills, toasters, toaster ovens, hot plates, ovens, griddles, and adhesives and attachment items that may damage walls or doors.

GET ACQUAINTED

You will often hear that the first six weeks are most critical in a student's transition to college, and we agree! Residents will never encounter a shortage of ways to get involved on campus, and the residential community is no exception. Community meetings will occur within the first 24-48 hours of arriving on campus and periodically throughout the semester. It is important to attend these meetings as it's a great way to meet your neighbors, but there is often a wealth of information distributed that you will need to know about living on campus! We recommend that you get acquainted with your roommate, your neighbors, your hall staff, residential policies, and the many opportunities available to students living on campus!

GET A ROOMMATE

Incoming residents may request a roommate when completing the application process. You are welcome to request a specific roommate; although, we do encourage students to step outside their comfort zone and live with someone you may not have known your entire life. Sometimes, the best of friends don't always make the best of roommates, and this is an opportunity to meet someone new. Residents also complete a compatibility questionnaire in their initial application that can be used to identify someone with similar interests and habits. You may choose a roommate using the Residence system between December 1 and March 31, or we can assign someone for you! Please note that any resident residing in a double room is required to have a roommate by contract. If you don't have a roommate upon arrival, we will assist you in finding one through the consolidation process.

GET UNITY IN YOUR COMMUNITY

The University wants to ensure a healthy and respectful environment for all students and that is the basis of Community Behavioral Standards. These standards reflect a respect for rights and responsibilities necessary in community living situations and help to ensure the safety of our residential communities. When students violate HRL or UNA policies, they go through the student conduct process which is designed to be educational. Through this process, HRL finds that students learn the importance of personal responsibility, the value of fairness, and the crucial role of honesty and integrity in our university community. HRL refrains from any decision or behavior that discriminates against an individual or group because of their race, color, sex, pregnancy, religion, creed, ethnicity, national origin, disability, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran or military status, or predisposing genetic characteristics, and this includes the assignment process, room changes, staff hiring and placement processes, etc.

GET INVOLVED

There are regular opportunities to get involved when living on campus, including events that focus on academic, personal, and social development, volunteer opportunities, committees, and employment. Our goal is for each resident to say that living on campus helped them acquire their desired degree at UNA, make lifelong friends, and learn how to be a productive and contributing member of society.

GET TO KNOW YOUR HALL STAFF

Housing & Residence Life has more than 75 professional, support, graduate, and undergraduate student staff to serve the more than 2,000 students living in on-campus residence halls and apartments.

- Area Coordinators: Each apartment and residence hall is directly overseen and managed by an Area Coordinator (ACs). Area Coordinators are full-time, master's-level staff members who reside on campus and supervise our graduate assistants and resident advisors. ACs are highly skilled in the areas of student and community development, programming, supervision, crisis management, conflict resolution, and the operational management of their assigned facilities.
- Graduate Assistants: Our Graduate Assistants (GAs) are full-time graduate students who work part-time with Housing & Residence Life in the areas of residential education, supervision, program development, marketing, and leadership.
- Resident Advisors: Our Resident Advisors (RAs) are full-time undergraduate students who serve as educators, community builders, and mentors to the students on their floors. Each residence hall and apartment has an assigned RA staff, and they are likely the first individuals that our residents will encounter and get to know. RAs are one of UNA's most valuable resources and serve in a variety of capacities which benefit our residential students. For example, RAs create regular opportunities for residents to get involved and become academically successful.

They also cover “duty,” which means they are available any time our central office is closed, including nights, weekends, and holidays. RAs will assist in almost every facet of residential living, including conflict mediation if roommates need assistance learning to compromise; providing instructions in emergencies, such as inclement weather; distributing information on room changes, holiday closings, RA selection and hiring, and how to submit a maintenance request. We take great pride in our Resident Advisor staff and the dedication members show in creating a supportive UNA Home.

• Environmental Specialists: Our Environmental Specialists are full-time staff that oversee the cleanliness, safety, and sanitation of common areas throughout the residence halls. They are an instrumental part of our residential communities and love to interact with our residents. The ES staff does an amazing job at taking care of our facilities, but we encourage and expect our residents to take responsibility for their personal living spaces and will hold them accountable when necessary.

GET EDUCATED

Our student conduct process is mentioned earlier, but it is important that each resident take the time to familiarize themselves with their residential contract, university and residential policies, and the expectations of on-campus living. All of our policies are equally important, but the consequences of violating a policy may vary depending on specific circumstances. Our most up-to-date policy information and full descriptions of each can be found at una.edu/housing, but we’ll briefly address a few that we encounter the most often or receive the most questions about.

• Abandoned Items Policy: Public areas of residence halls and apartments, including lounges, community bathrooms, hallways, etc. are not intended for storage of personal belongings. If students leave their personal belongings in these areas, the items will be considered abandoned property and may be removed or disposed of by staff.

• Alcohol Policy: Alabama State Law prohibits the possession or consumption of alcohol by anyone under the age of 21. UNA and Housing & Residence Life expect students and their guests to comply fully with these laws.

• Appliances and Electrical Items Policy: Because the University takes the safety of everyone in university housing very seriously, we cannot allow students to bring certain items into their room/apartment. Prohibited items may differ depending on location. During health and safety inspections, university officials will require the removal of prohibited appliances or materials from residence hall rooms.

• Cohabitation Policy: Cohabitation is not permitted in residence halls. Cohabitation exists when a person who is not assigned to a particular room uses that room as if he/she were living there. Examples of this may include, but are not limited to, accessing the room while the assigned occupants are not present, utilizing a key to enter a room to which one is not assigned, keeping clothing and other items in the room, sleeping overnight in the room on a regular basis, and using the bathroom and shower facilities as if they lived in that room. Residents are permitted to have a guest or guests spend the night for a maximum of three nights in any 30-day period. Cohabitation is defined as visitors residing with a resident, in a residence hall for more than a total of three (3) nights in a 30-day period. All overnight visitations must be consistent with any applicable roommate agreements. Any resident found having an individual living with them is subject to immediate termination of their residence hall contract. When a guest’s continual presence hinders a roommate’s ability to study, sleep, and/or occupy their room, this will be considered a violation of this policy.

• Consolidation Policy: If a vacancy occurs in an assigned room, the remaining resident agrees to pay the additional fee necessary to occupy the room for the remainder of the semester as a private. Private rooms will be approved on a first-come, first-served basis, and are contingent upon space and availability, OR seek out another roommate and request a room change with someone who has no roommate, OR allow the Occupancy Coordinator to assign a new resident to the room, or move to another room that has only one occupant.

- Damage to Public Areas Policy: Individual or group activities that may result in disturbance or distress to others or that cause, or may reasonably be expected to cause, damage or destruction to self or property are prohibited. When individual responsibility cannot be determined, the residents of a floor or building may become collectively responsible for restoration costs.
 - Damage to Rooms Policy: Each resident is responsible for the ongoing condition of his/her room and shall reimburse the University for any damages or loss of items. Charges for damages will be determined by the University at its discretion and must be paid before the end of the semester in which the damages occur.
 - Decorations Policy: We encourage students to make your residence hall and room feel like your UNA home. However, there are decorative guidelines that must be followed in order to preserve the quality of residence hall rooms. Decorations (e.g. pictures, posters, etc.) may be attached using blue painter tape. Double-sided tape, 3M Command Strips, nails, and non-removable decals should not be applied to any surface. Do not attach items to the ceiling, and refrain from using combustible materials (e.g. cotton, paper, straw, etc.) for safety reasons. Decorations are prohibited from obstructing sprinkler heads, smoke detectors, exits and signage, emergency lighting, or corridors.
 - Fire Safety Equipment Policy: Fire safety equipment is provided to help ensure everyone's safety. Tampering with alarms, extinguishers, or smoke detectors is a violation of local, state, and federal laws, as well as a violation of university policy. Tampering with fire safety equipment is a criminal offense and a ticket/fine may be issued.
 - Hall Sports and Horseplay Policy: Housing & Residence Life does not condone activities that could result in damage to a residence hall or accidental injury to residents and guests. The noise from these activities may also negatively affect the living community. Therefore, horseplay and sports activities which include, but are not limited to, food fights, water fights, running, hacky sack, hockey, in-line skating, skateboarding, bouncing balls, riding bikes, wrestling, remote control toy operation, and other athletic/sport-type activities are prohibited in the residence halls. Staff members reserve the right to confiscate equipment used in violation of this policy.
 - Pets Policy: Pets are not permitted in the residence halls, with the exception of fish. Fish tanks may be no larger than five gallons total capacity per room.
 - Public Area Decoration Policy: Any mode of decoration that contains obscene, profane, pornographic, or otherwise offensive elements as determined by professional staff will not be permitted.
 - Quiet Hours / Courtesy Hours Policy: Residents have the right to sleep and study in their rooms at any time. When asked by someone to respect this right, residents are expected to demonstrate courtesy and consideration by complying with the request. As a general rule, at no time should noise be heard from a resident's room more than two doors away or from another floor. Courtesy hours are in effect 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Quiet hours are effective in each residence hall between 10 p.m. and 10 a.m. daily. Quiet hours are in effect 24 hours a day during the fall and spring finals period.
 - Smoking Policy: University of North Alabama is a tobacco-free campus effective Fall 2017. Smoking is prohibited in and around all campus facilities. Please note that monetary sanctions will apply for any smoking policy violation in the residence halls or apartments.
 - Trash Removal Policy: Students are responsible for disposing of their own trash in appropriate exterior trash receptacles or interior trash chutes. Students found to have disposed of any waste inappropriately may be processed through student conduct.
 - Visitation Policy: A guest is someone who visits a residence hall at the invitation of the resident inviting him/her as a guest. Guests are permitted in a residence hall room if all occupants consent, and they are to be escorted at all times. Guests may be accommodated in university housing for no more than three nights in any 30-day period per resident. Guests under the age of 18 are not allowed visitation without permission from the designated Area Coordinator at least 24 hours in advance. Residents are responsible for the actions of their guests and ensuring that they abide by all applicable policies and regulations. Housing & Residence Life reserves the right to distinguish visitors from residents and revoke privileges in the event of inappropriate activities/behaviors at any point during the visit.

GET (AND STAY) INFORMED

HRL would love for you to “Like Us” on Facebook or “Follow Us” on Twitter and Instagram (@unahr1) and share the excitement of living on campus at UNA! However, the most important way for our residents to stay informed is to check their official UNA email account often and regularly. This is the university’s official means of communication and how we consistently share need-to-know details about living on campus. We also encourage residents and family members to check our website often at una.edu/housing. You can view a list of important dates, frequently asked questions, information on upcoming events, and almost everything you need to know about living on campus at this location. Before moving in, we encourage you to review the Campus Living section so you will be familiar with cleaning guidelines, hall amenities, and how to make the most of your residential experience.

GET TO KNOW US

We invite you to visit our Housing & Residence Life office in Rivers Hall. This is where you will find our Residence Life professional staff and HRL Leadership Team. You may also contact us anytime by emailing housing@una.edu or calling 256-765-5558.

SENDING AND RECEIVING MAIL

All undergraduate students residing on campus are assigned a campus mailbox that is their official address. Assignments are made in early August and should be available when you move into the residence halls. Undergraduate students who do not live on campus, but who are enrolled in at least seven hours, may request a campus mailbox on a first-come, first-served basis. Please note that if you have a UNA mailbox, all University mail will be sent there. To find out your mailbox assignment, go to the Mail

Room on the first floor of the Guillot University Center, and use your portal username and password to look up your box number and combination on the screen by the Mail Room window.

TO OPEN YOUR MAILBOX

(instruction cards are available at the window):

1. Turn the dial to the left at least 4 turns, then stop at the first number.
2. Turn to the right, passing the first number once, and stop at the second number.
3. Turn to the left and stop at the third number.
4. Turn slowly to the right and open!

The Mail Room is not a branch of the U.S. Postal Service, but its functions are similar. All University mail is delivered to the Mail Room, and staff members distribute the mail to student and departmental boxes. You may purchase stamps and mail packages from there. Cards, letters, and magazines are placed in your box. If you have a package, then a notice is placed in your box. Take the notice to the window, and your package will be retrieved for you. YOU MUST HAVE YOUR UNA MANE CARD TO CLAIM YOUR PACKAGE. Package notices are not placed in the mailboxes until all deliveries are made to campus, so check your box after 2 p.m.

If you are graduating or not returning to UNA, you must change your address at USPS.com and also complete a change of address form with the UNA Mail Room.

For more information, go to:
una.edu/events/mail-room.html

GET INSURANCE!

We do recommend that each resident obtain renter’s insurance. You can find additional property insurance information at una.edu/housing/residential-services/renters-insurance.html.

MOVE-IN WEEKEND

THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT MOVE-IN WEEKEND

- Be on time, but don't be early! Each resident will choose their designated check-in time (please see website for additional details), and it's important that you stick to that time. We have a limited amount of space for unloading and parking, so early arrivals will be directed to a holding area until their designated time.
- Pack the necessities! We want students to bring all the things they need to be comfortable and feel at home, but there is a limited amount of space in the residence hall rooms. Be strategic. We recommend that students contact their roommates in advance to coordinate larger items, such as refrigerator, microwave, TV, etc.
- Bring tools! If you think you may need a screwdriver or wrench, bring it with you!
- Leave your U-Haul at home! The best way to move your student is to pack items in mid-sized boxes that are easy to lift; label them clearly with student's last name and room number, and choose one vehicle to pack large items that must be unloaded close to the hall and one vehicle to pack smaller items that can be carried from a distance. One vehicle per student is even better!
- Bring help! You cannot leave vehicles in the unloading zone, so make sure you have at least one individual to help oversee the unloading process. We will have volunteers available to assist, but please make sure to wear tennis shoes and comfortable clothing so you can help move things in quickly.
- Check out Tent City! We will have an area between Mattielou and Olive halls where several University departments and services will be set-up. If you have any concerns with your room (maintenance, furniture, access, etc.), then come to our Command Center, and we'll find someone to help you. We're sure to have some sweet treats, so you're welcome to just stop by and say hi!
- Be patient, and cool off! We're absolutely thrilled to welcome our Class of 2027 on move-in weekend. Please be patient as we work to get everyone physically into their halls. August in Alabama can really bring the heat, so pack plenty of water and patience!
- Say hello to the staff! Each floor in each residence hall has a Resident Advisor (RA) assigned to it. These are undergraduate students who are well-trained in community development and serve as a resource for any academic and/or personal needs that may arise. They will help your student get acquainted with their residence hall and the UNA campus. We also have full-time, professional staff members who live on campus and oversee the RAs. They will work to make sure your student's transition is as smooth as possible and that they begin to succeed as soon as they arrive.

- Go home! We have a lot of exciting events planned for your student, and informational community meetings will begin the evening they arrive. There is a list of area hotels on the University's website (una.edu/visit/where-to-stay-eat.html) if you would like to stick around and spend time in the Shoals. However, we would like your student to begin staying in their residence hall room and meeting their fellow community members as soon as they arrive.

- Encourage involvement! UNA hosts a number of events during Mane Month, which takes place the first few weeks of class. These are educational, social, cultural, and developmental events that allow your student to meet their peers, have fun, learn about college, and become a true member of the UNA community. Encourage them to get out of their rooms and participate in these events. There is a huge variety available, so it's easy to find something that will appeal to everyone. Housing & Residence Life RAs are always happy to attend these events with residents if they feel more comfortable going with someone.

- Stay in contact! It's important for your student to learn independence as they are acclimating to their new collegiate lifestyle. However, there are many ways for you to stay in touch and show your support. You can order care packages through the UNA Bookstore, send old-fashioned snail mail to their campus mailbox (Trust us, they will love it!), and call on occasion. You'll probably want to touch base regularly, but don't be concerned if your student seems to need a little space while they learn what it means to be a UNA student.

We encourage you to check the Housing & Residence Life website at una.edu/housing often for updates and information. You can find details on move-in weekend, hall programs, staff, departmental events, and our residential communities. We can also be reached at housing@una.edu with any specific questions.

Check the webpage at una.edu/healthservices for any changes in clinic operations including intersession and summer hours. UHS closes during all University holidays and closing.

HOURS OF OPERATION

University Health Services (UHS) is open for appointments Monday-Thursday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Friday 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Patients should call UHS at 256-768-4328 to schedule an appointment.

OUR SERVICES

UHS offer an array of preventive services and treatment options for minor illness and injury, including physical examinations, women's health services, and allergy injections. UHS offers some in-house laboratory (lab) testing, as well as on-site dispensing of common medications. UHS providers are available to provide testing, education, counseling, and treatment for sexually transmitted illnesses (STI). Some STI tests are available to students at no charge. UHS, along with Student Counseling Services and University Case Management, partners with FastPace Behavioral Health to provide access to additional mental health services to all UNA students.

COST

All students who are enrolled at UNA can see a provider (physician or nurse practitioner) free of charge. However, there are minimal charges for medications, procedures, lab work, etc. Payment is due at the time of service and may be made by debit or credit card.

UHS does not accept insurance or file claims, but your health insurance will be needed for off-campus prescriptions, specialists, or after-hours care. Students should have a copy of their insurance card.

PATIENT PORTAL

All patients are now required to fill out new patient paperwork electronically via our Patient Portal. The Patient Portal can be accessed from our website, una.edu/healthservices. Students will log in using their UNA credentials. The required forms are under the forms tab and are marked with a red asterisk (*). Patients are required to update these forms annually. All students are encouraged to fill out their forms before arriving to the clinic to expedite their care.

IMMUNIZATIONS

All students entering UNA for the first time are required to provide proof of immunization against the following vaccine preventable diseases: Measles, Mumps, Rubella, Meningitis, Tetanus, Diphtheria, Acellular Pertussis (whooping cough) and Varicella (chickenpox/shingles). Students who believe they should be exempt from the vaccine requirement may request consideration for exemption from any or all vaccines.

Students are required to complete a Tuberculosis (TB) screening questionnaire. All immunization information and the TB screen must be submitted through the Patient Portal under the immunization tab. Additional information and submission instructions are available at una.edu/healthservices.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

University Health Services (UHS) is not a substitute for a student's primary health care provider. The UHS providers are happy to work with a student's primary health care provider to continue an existing treatment plan or to help a student establish services in the area. UHS providers do not prescribe or refill narcotics or medications prescribed for the treatment of ADHD, mood disorders, or chronic conditions. UHS is not equipped to provide care for emergency conditions, and students should call 911 or present to the nearest emergency department for an emergency.

CASE MANAGER

The University Case Manager can be a great resource for students and family members. Transitioning to the college campus setting can be an exciting time but can offer some challenges. Students may often have trouble with academic and/or social adjustment, responsibilities, independence, time management, financial obligations and balancing school, work, and leisure time.

When these changes become overwhelming, a student may not know where to turn. The University Case Manager can offer emotional support, referral to support services, and linkage to resources on and off campus with the goal of promoting a student's success and improving the overall college experience.

Contact the University Case Manager if you are a student struggling to meet academic goals because of any of the following:

- Illness or injury
- Mental health concerns
- Personal or family crisis
- Financial concerns
- Difficulty navigating the university experience
- Adjusting to campus life
- Medical withdrawal

If you are concerned about a student at UNA:

Complete the Student of Concern Referral at una.edu/casemanagement or contact the University Case Manager at 256-765-4531 or hunderwood1@una.edu.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

DEVOTED TO INCLUSION

At UNA, we boast a proud tradition when it comes to diversity and inclusion. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion staff leads the development and implementation of proactive diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives.

MISSION STATEMENT

The concept of diversity encompasses acceptance and respect. It means understanding that each individual is unique and recognizing our individual differences. These can be along the dimensions of race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, socio-economic status, age, physical abilities, religious beliefs, political beliefs, or other ideologies. It is the exploration of these differences in a safe, positive, and nurturing environment. It is about understanding each other and moving beyond simple tolerance to embracing and celebrating the rich dimensions of diversity contained within each individual.

EQUITY

Empower Others

The mission of the Center for Women's Studies is to educate, support, and reach out to women on our campus in context of a global community. We offer events, mentorship, a feminist affinity group, and the AAUW Start Smart Salary Negotiation Workshop.

Feminist Affinity Group

The Feminist Affinity Group is a resource for students who believe that all people are entitled to equal rights and are passionate about advocating for gender equity. The group meets regularly for discussions and presentations.

Mentorship

The Center for Women's Studies offers mentorship programs to students. Our mentorship programs can help advance your leadership, transform your career, and support gender equity.

Start Smart Workshop

AAUW Start Smart salary negotiation workshop is designed to teach you how to negotiate salaries for a new job. In the workshop, you will gain confidence in your negotiation style and learn:

- To identify and articulate your personal value
- To develop an arsenal of persuasive responses and other strategies to use when negotiating
- To conduct objective market research to benchmark a target salary and benefits
- About the wage gap, including its long-term consequences

Negotiations can increase the potential to earn higher salaries and better benefits packages. By negotiating fair and equitable wages, you will be better able to pay off loans, buy the things you want and need, and even save (though it may seem far away) for retirement.

TRANSPORTATION

Campus parking can be a challenge; therefore, the University provides shuttle buses to transport people around the campus and to and from remote parking to the campus core. Using the shuttle reduces the number of cars seeking parking on campus and reduces the number of tickets for violation of parking regulations.

UNA BUS TRANSIT DAILY ROUTES

The University offers bus service Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m. during the fall and spring semesters. These buses offer rides to and from multiple locations on campus, to and from our remote parking areas, and to and from East Campus and the Connie D. McKinney Center.

SATURDAY SHOPPING SHUTTLE

Provides service to and from the Rice/Rivers and Appleby parking lots to various shopping areas throughout the greater Florence area, including the Wal-Mart, and Target shopping centers. It operates on Saturdays when school is in session (check our website for times and destinations).

Visit una.edu/transportation/bus-schedule.html
for potential route updates

Persons who are temporarily disabled may obtain a temporary handicapped parking permit from University Transportation Services through the "Forms" feature in their UNA Parking Portal account with documented doctor's approval.

Visit una.edu/transportation

UNIVERSITY POLICE

The University of North Alabama is a safe learning environment for students. The safety of those on campus is not only the responsibility of the University of North Alabama Police Department but also the students, faculty, and staff.

UNIVERSITY POLICE

The University of North Alabama Police Department (UPD) is a full-service law enforcement agency established to provide the highest degree of safety and security possible for the University of North Alabama community. We employ Alabama-certified law enforcement officers and provide 24-hour patrol and protection of campus and local assets, enforcing all laws and ordinances.

We are committed to the prevention of crime and the protection of life and property. We have a criminal investigations division dedicated to investigating crimes occurring on our campus, a patrol division, and specialized units responsible for duties unique to the campus environment.

Every member of the UNA community should be familiar with the UNA Police Department and the services we offer. Protect yourself by becoming informed and using good judgment. UNA officers are committed to providing personal and property safety information and programs designed to help make your educational, living, and working experience at UNA as enjoyable and as crime-free as possible. You may contact the UNA Police Department by phone at 256-765-4357 or by email at police@una.edu.

EMERGENCIES ON CAMPUS

As part of UNA's ongoing effort to safeguard students, faculty, and staff, the University has implemented an emergency communications system, known as Lion Alert. The system allows students, faculty, and staff to receive time-sensitive emergency messages in the form of email, voice, and text messages.

Everyone who has a UNA email address will receive emergency alerts to their campus email address.

In order to receive text and voice message alerts, members of the campus community are asked to provide phone contact information. While participation in the text and voice messaging notification is optional, enrollment is strongly encouraged. The information you supply is considered confidential and will not be shared or used for other purposes. You will only be contacted through the system in the event of an emergency.

As you make your way around campus, you will notice blue emergency poles. Each pole houses a phone that is clearly marked and is a direct line to the University Police communications operation. No dialing is necessary. In an emergency, all you need to do is push the red button.

CLERY ACT & ASFSR

Each year, the University of North Alabama publishes the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report (ASFSR) in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Act and the Department of Education regulations. The University of North Alabama publishes crime statistics for the three most recent calendar years and UNA security-related policies and procedures. This information is distributed each year to enrolled students and current employees and is also made available to prospective employees and students.

To view UNA's current Annual Security and Fires Safety Report, please visit una.edu/police and locate this report and more campus safety information from the home page under "Clery Act."

EASY SAFETY PRECAUTIONS

If you decide to walk on or off campus at night, go as a group and come back as a group. There is safety in numbers. When you are out and about, be aware of your surroundings. If you see something suspicious, call 911. Do not text, talk on the phone, or listen to music with earphones while walking or biking. Do not leave your property unattended. If you are in the library, the Guillot University Center (GUC), or a classroom and have to leave for any reason, take your property with you. Always lock your residence hall room - even if you will only be gone for a minute - every time.

SAFE COMPUTING PRACTICES

- Never open an email attachment from a questionable source.
- When communicating on the Internet, don't share personal information or pictures that you do not wish to be public.
- Maintain multiple strong passwords. Don't use the same password for your online banking that you do for your email.
- Do not download and run files you receive from chat buddies without first making sure that the person intentionally sent you the message.
- Whenever you download software, make sure you read the user agreement. Many programs that you download from the Internet come with unwanted programs known as spyware.
- Back up your data on an external hard drive, USB flash drive, or CD-R/RW.
- Before you download copyrighted music, movies, TV shows, software, or games from the Internet, make sure it is authorized and appropriate. You can be held responsible for substantial costs and fees for illegal downloading.
- Never leave your tech devices unattended, and buy a laptop lock for when you are on the go.
- Record and keep serial numbers for any valuable property that you own. This greatly reduces your risk of losing an item due to theft.

SAFETY IN RESIDENCE HALLS

LOCKED DOORS – All doors leading to residence hall rooms are locked 24 hours a day. Access to your residence hall is controlled by your Mane Card. If your Mane Card is lost or stolen, deactivate it online right away at una.campuscardcenter.com and obtain a replacement at the Mane Card office on the second floor of The Commons. There is a $15 fee to replace the card. Once you obtain your replacement card, access to your hall will update automatically, but be advised that the updates run on a schedule, which means that it may be a few hours before you have full access. The Mane Card office can tell you when to expect your access to be restored.

SECURITY CAMERAS – Cameras are installed in every residence hall in public areas such as lobbies, mezzanines, and laundry rooms.

RESIDENT ADVISORS (RAs) – RAs are on-call weekdays from 4:30 p.m. until 8 a.m. and from Friday at 4:30 p.m. until Monday at 8 a.m. If the RA needs assistance, an Area Coordinator is available 24 hours a day.

OPERATION ID – Marking valuables provides the best chance for recovering them, and it's a proven way to discourage theft in the first place. Operation ID makes it easy. The UPD has easy-to-use engravers that you may borrow. Engrave your name on all items that might interest a thief: smart home devices, bike, computer, iPad, phone, refrigerator, etc.

SAFETY ON-THE-GO

Everyone wants to be safe. That means watching out for one another. Here are tips to keep you safe.

DRIVER SAFETY

- Always wear your seat belt.
- Be aware of pedestrian and bicycle traffic around campus. There's a lot of it.

- Always close your windows and sunroof and lock the doors, even if you will only be gone a short time.
- Put valuables and packages in the trunk.
- Have your keys in your hand before arriving at your car.
- Lock your door while driving.

BIKE SAFETY

- Never ride on a campus sidewalk unless it is designated as a bike lane with pavement markings.
- Obey all traffic signs, signals, and laws.
- Yield to pedestrians in crosswalks.
- Always wear a bike helmet.
- Ride in the direction of traffic.
- Use headlights and reflectors for night riding.
- For maximum protection, use a U-lock.
- Keep a written record of your bike's serial number.

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY

- Obey "Don't Walk" and other traffic-control signals.
- Cross within the marked crosswalk. Jaywalking may be subject to a fine.
- Be aware of your surroundings: Don't be distracted with electronic devices.
- Be careful of blind spots around cars, trucks, and buses. Always assume the driver does not know you are there.
- Walk confidently; look ahead, and make eye contact.

SAFETY TIPS AND LEGAL REMINDERS

- Students must be aware of and comply with all state and local laws.

- Take steps to avoid identity theft: Secure data – lock your mailbox, shred documents containing your personal information, safeguard bank accounts, and don't respond to emails asking for sensitive information. Don't keep your Social Security card with you, and never give out the number unless absolutely necessary. Report suspected identity theft to the police.

- IDENTIFICATION CARD: Mane Card thefts are becoming more prevalent. Protect your card like you would protect one of your credit cards. If it is lost or stolen, immediately go to una.campuscardcenter.com or call the Mane Card office at 256-765-4924.

- DRIVER'S LICENSE: If you are going to drive in Alabama, you must have a valid driver's license. If you move to Alabama permanently, you must get an Alabama license within 30 days.

- AUTO INSURANCE AND VEHICLE REGISTRATION: If you drive in Alabama, you must have auto insurance for your vehicle. Always carry proof of insurance and vehicle registration in your vehicle. Lack of insurance is a crime.

- CRIMINAL CONVICTIONS OR CHARGES: Bad conduct can result in academic discipline and impact your future educational and employment opportunities. (International students: Certain criminal acts could result in loss of status and removal.)

- ALCOHOL USE: The drinking age is 21. If you are under 21, you may not possess or consume alcohol. Doing so is a crime. Providing alcohol to someone under the age of 21 is also a crime.

- FALSE IDENTIFICATION: It is a crime to use a false I.D. identifying yourself or your age inaccurately.

- ILLEGAL DOWNLOADS: Before you download copyrighted music or movies, software, or games from the Internet, make sure it is authorized. Severe penalties can result from illegal downloading.

SEE SOMETHING, SAY SOMETHING

In order for the University Police Department to maintain a safe and secure environment for the students, faculty, and staff, it needs help from the community. As noted, take precautions to protect your property by never leaving it unattended in public and by locking your room when you leave it, even for a moment. Maintain your safety while traveling throughout the campus at night by walking with others on well-lit streets, and by using the shuttle bus or taking advantage of the Student Night-time Auxiliary Patrol (SNAP) program.

Additionally, we need you to serve as our eyes and ears. You are in a better position to identify behavior and activities that are out of the ordinary in your residence halls or classrooms. When you identify suspicious behavior, we need you to contact the UNAPD. You should trust your instincts. If something doesn't seem right, it probably isn't. Don't ignore it or keep it to yourself. Call us – even if you are unsure about what is occurring. We are not encouraging you to intervene or take actions on your own. We just need you to take a moment to call us to alert us to the situation. We will then dispatch officers immediately to investigate the situation and take appropriate actions. For emergencies dial 9-1-1. For non-emergencies call 256-765-4357.

For additional safety and emergency information, please refer to the UPD's Campus Safety Guide that can be found at: UNA.EDU/POLICE

STUDENT NIGHT-TIME AUXILIARY PATROL (SNAP)

Did you know there is a free service that offers nightly escorts anywhere on campus? It is called SNAP and is staffed by students equipped and supervised by the University Police Department. All you have to do is call 256.765.4357 (EXT. 5) and provide your first name, location of pick-up and destination, and the dispatcher will send an escort, either on foot or in a University Police golf cart.

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY LIFE

COLLEGE PANHELLENIC COUNCIL (CPH)

The College Panhellenic Council is governed by the National Panhellenic Conference, which is comprised of 26 international organizations. The most common method for potential new members (PNMs) to join a sorority is through formal recruitment, which is a mutually selective process. UNA hosts Formal Panhellenic Recruitment early in the fall semester. Registration for formal recruitment must be completed online at una.edu/cph and requires a registration fee. While there is not a minimum grade point average for PNMs to register for formal recruitment, all UNA chapters strongly prefer new members to have at least a 3.0 high school GPA. Membership after the formal recruitment period can still be an option for interested students as long as chapters are open for membership. This process is referred to as Continuous Open Bidding. Four sororities comprise Panhellenic at the University of North Alabama, and each have individual floors and chapter rooms in the Appleby Residential Complex. Each Panhellenic chapter has a one-year live-on campus requirement for the sorority residence hall.

The four Panhellenic chapters at UNA are:

- Alpha Delta Pi
- Alpha Gamma Delta
- Phi Mu
- Zeta Tau Alpha

The University of North Alabama's Fraternity and Sorority Life is dedicated to enhancing the undergraduate fraternity and sorority experience by fostering an inclusive community, providing academic, personal, social, service, and leadership opportunities, and promoting a strong values-based fraternity and sorority community. Check out una.edu/FSL for more information on Fraternity and Sorority Life.

INDEPENDENT GREEK COUNCIL (IGC)

The IGC chapters at the University of North Alabama are not independent from the fraternity and sorority community; however, each chapter in this council has varying independent interests (e.g., spiritual, music, etc.). Each Independent Greek Council chapter has its own recruitment and new member process. The best way to become involved in one of these organizations is to connect with members of the chapter individually, or by filling out the recruitment form at una.edu/igc.

IGC at the University of North Alabama has three fraternities and one sorority:

- Alpha Delta Chi
- Alpha Mu Lambda
- Lambda Sigma Phi
- Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Men interested in joining an Interfraternity Council fraternity at the University of North Alabama have multiple options for seeking membership. It is common for chapters to recruit members during the summer before their first fall semester, but the recruitment process continues throughout the beginning of the fall semester, as well. The IFC encourages recruitment 365 days of the year; however, during fall recruitment, IFC provides ample opportunities to meet with the men of the IFC chapters. During this time, prospective members have the opportunity to interact with individuals from each fraternity and learn more about the membership requirements and values of the organization. To express interest, please fill out the IFC recruitment form at una.edu/ifc.

Eight fraternal organizations comprise the Interfraternity Council at UNA:

- Alpha Sigma Phi
- Alpha Tau Omega
- Delta Chi
- Kappa Sigma
- Phi Gamma Delta
- Pi Kappa Alpha
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon
- Sigma Chi

NATIONAL PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL (NPHC)

The National Pan-Hellenic Council is the governing council for our historically Black Greek letter organizations. Chapters advertise their membership intake process through flyers labeled Interest Meeting, Informational, or Rush, which all students are welcome to attend should they want to learn more about the organization and potentially join. Before attending an interest meeting for any organization, an interested student must attend NPHC convocation, which takes place at the beginning of each semester. Convocation provides insight and basic information regarding each chapter. To learn more about convocation and intake, please visit una.edu/nphc.

NPHC is also referred to as the “Divine Nine,” made up of nine historically Black Greek letter organizations. NPHC at the University of North Alabama is proud to boast the presence of eight of the Divine Nine organizations.

- Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.
- Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc.
- Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.
- Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc.
- Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.
- Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc.
- Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc.
- Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc.

GAMMA SIGMA ALPHA - GREEK ACADEMIC HONOR SOCIETY

Gamma Sigma Alpha is an academic honor society for members of fraternity and sorority organizations. Gamma Sigma Alpha recognizes junior and senior members who have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or higher at the start of their junior year, or a grade point average of 3.5 or higher at any point during their junior or senior years. Once eligible, students will be notified to register as a member.

ORDER OF OMEGA - GREEK LEADERSHIP HONOR SOCIETY

Order of Omega is a leadership honor society for members of fraternity and sorority organizations. Order of Omega recognizes juniors and seniors who have exemplified high standards in the areas of scholarship, leadership, and involvement within their respective organization and within the fraternity / sorority, campus, and local community. Members are selected from the top 5 percent of Greek students at each institution. Once eligible, students will be notified to apply for membership.

RHO LAMBDA - SORORITY HONOR SOCIETY

Rho Lambda is an honor society for sorority members. Rho Lambda recognizes juniors and seniors who are actively involved in their sorority and who serve the campus and community, while maintaining excellent academic standards. Eligible students are notified to apply for membership.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AND OUTREACH

The act of service is not only good for the people and places that are being helped, but it is also a great way for students to connect with other peers on campus, develop leadership skills, and become a catalyst for social change. We aim to have students asking “why” certain social issues exist and figuring out what they can do to make the world a better place. There are a variety of opportunities offered through the Student Engagement Center that encourage volunteerism and community service.

ALTERNATIVE BREAKS

Alternative Break (AB) trips take place during University breaks (i.e., Spring Break, Fall Break, etc.) in which groups of students travel to communities throughout the United States and the world to provide a service that is focused on a specific social issue. Our trips are both domestic and international depending on the issues and locations that are selected. We travel outside of our own community in order to get students out of their comfort zone, fully aware of their surroundings, and focused on creating positive change. Throughout the duration of the trip, the groups participate in daily reflection in order to address how the same social issues impact our own community and how the students can best apply themselves when they return home, thus moving along the Active Citizen Continuum.

Each trip is led by student site leaders who are selected based on AB experience and ability to plan and execute impactful experiences. Site leaders assist in the logistical planning process, pre-trip meetings and service, group reflections during the trips, and post-trip service and reorientation. Our program has focused on social issues of homelessness and poverty, human trafficking awareness and prevention, animal rescue, disaster relief, environmental conservation and much more! To find out more about upcoming trips, read about past experiences, and apply to participate, visit una.edu/ab.

UServe is a civic engagement program coordinated by the Office of Student Engagement and the Mitchell-West Center for Social Inclusion. It is an interactive program that incorporates education, training, hands-on service, and reflection to connect students with the social challenges of today. Each month is focused on a different topic. The topics have included homelessness, hunger, youth mentoring, healthy relationships, disability support, and Alzheimer’s and related disorders.

The UServe programs are decided by student advocates. UServe Advocates are campus leaders at the forefront of creating change in our community. Advocates have the opportunity to choose the social topics for our UServe months and help organize the details to build thought-provoking and engaging programs.

COMMUNITY PROJECTS

During the first week of classes in the fall semester, UNA hosts a volunteer fair on campus where students can learn more about the community organizations and volunteer opportunities. This event is called “Lions Lend a Hand.”

Students also have the opportunity to take part in the MLK Day of Service where they can serve the local community by packing nutritious meals for a local food pantry. Recently, more than 300 students packaged 30,000 meals that were given to the Shoals Dream Center. This event takes place in conjunction with other service projects across the United States.

Aside from the large community service projects, there are always opportunities for students to connect with community organizations to volunteer. Information about events, requests, and ways to get more involved can be found at una.edu/communityservice.

FEEDING THE PRIDE

The Feeding the Pride pantry offers food assistance to any UNA student who needs it. The pantry includes non-perishable food items, men’s and women’s hygiene items, and other basic necessities. When available, the pantry will offer grab-and-go items, catered meals, and fresh produce.

Feeding the Pride Campus Pantry is part of the Alabama Campus Coalition for Basic Needs, along with nine other universities in Alabama. Donations are accepted in item or monetary form and are used to provide resources and meal plan scholarships for students in need. For more information about how to donate, how to access, and hours of operation, please visit una.edu/foodpantry.

EXTRA INFORMATION

LIFE IN THE SHOALS

Earliest history noted the thunderous stretch of shallow rapids where the Tennessee River flowed through the hills and valleys of northwest Alabama. At least 79 species of freshwater mussels were found in abundance among the river rocks. Folklore tells us that the American Indians used “much muscle” to power their canoes through the swift waters. They called the place Muscle Shoals.

Today the treacherous waters have been stilled and the area is home to four towns, perched on the banks of the Tennessee River, united by the ancient paths where early Native American settlers carved out a thriving community imbued with their mystical culture. The Singing River influenced their way of life, just as it compelled William Christopher Handy to reproduce the sounds of our unique southern soul.

The towns are Florence, Muscle Shoals, Sheffield, and Tuscumbia – collectively called the Shoals.

The small-town flavor and large-city refinement are evident as you stroll through our charming historic downtowns, play 18 holes of world-class golf, reel in a trophy-size bass, or indulge yourself in our tantalizing array of southern cuisine while enjoying the musical rhythms of the famous “Muscle Shoals Sound.”

MUST SEE AND GOTTA DO!

- Reel in a trophy bass, bluegill, catfish, striper or crappie on Pickwick, Wilson, or Wheeler lakes.
- Play world-class golf on the Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail.
- View the “Wright Stuff” at Alabama’s only structure designed by architect Frank Lloyd Wright – The Rosenbaum House.
- Visit the simple log cabin where blues was born – the birthplace of “Father of the Blues” W.C. Handy.
- Hear the distinctive “Muscle Shoals Sound” at local live music venues.
- See the birthplace of Helen Keller, “America’s First Lady of Courage.”
- Learn Civil War history at Pope’s Tavern Museum.
- Choose bird watching, hiking, biking, picnicking, or even a visit to the only Coon Dog Cemetery in the nation.
- Climb the steps of history at the Florence Indian Mound, or follow the Trail of Tears at Tom’s Wall.
- Shop at internationally recognized fashion designer Billy Reid’s Clothing, Alabama Chanin’s eco-chic The Factory, quaint boutiques, and antique shops.

WHERE TO EAT!

One thing for sure is that residents of the Shoals are spoiled by the amazing selection of excellent eating establishments available. The problem is trying to fit them all in! You can't go wrong with any of them, but make sure you try the following options that are included in the publication, "100 Dishes to Eat in Alabama Before You Die."

- Bread, herbs, and olive oil at Ricatoni's, downtown Florence, 256-718-1002
- Crab cakes at 360 Grille at Marriott Hotel & Spa, Florence (adjacent to Wilson Dam), 256-246-3600
- Hand scooped orange-pineapple ice cream at Trowbridge's, downtown Florence, 256-764-1503 (since 1918)
- Dale's Steak Seasoning (available in most grocery stores)

LIONS DON'T LITTER

Welcome to the beautiful University of North Alabama campus!

We are fortunate to have an abundance of natural resources nearby for the campus community to enjoy. Cypress Creek, a great spot for kayaking, is less than one mile from the UNA campus.

Any litter from our campus can easily end up in Cypress Creek. Litter can suffocate or disable ducks, fish, turtles, and birds. It can also degrade the local water quality.

It is within every person's control to reduce litter. There are meaningful ways we can all contribute to litter prevention.

Here are five ways YOU can make a difference:

1. Put litter in trash bins or recycling containers.
2. Use a reusable waterbottle. UNA has more than 20 water bottle filling stations on campus.
3. Use a fabric bag for groceries, or no bag at all.
4. Share this message with friends and family.
5. Participate in a campus sponsored litter pick up event.

WHAT STARTS HERE

ENDS HERE.

If it's on the ground, it's in our water. Please help keep our waterways free of pollution.

TITLE IX

WHAT DOES TITLE IX COVER?

The University of North Alabama has an expectation of mutual respect. Students and employees, of all genders, are entitled to an educational environment free of discriminatory harassment, including discrimination based on sex or gender. At UNA, we have policies in place that prohibit sex- and gender-based discrimination, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence, stalking, and discrimination against pregnant and/or parenting students.

"No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

— Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972

WHAT DOES THE OFFICE OF TITLE IX DO?

The Office of Title IX emphasizes UNA's focus on educating, based on evidence-based practices and our own campus trends, to prevent acts of sexual violence, sexual harassment, and other forms of discrimination before they occur. The foundation of this commitment lies in the policies and procedures we follow as they emphasize and rely on due process and campus safety while we investigate, resolve reports, and provide support and appropriate interim measures to individuals involved in the Title IX Process.

WHAT IS BYSTANDER INTERVENTION?

We all have the ability to act to prevent or intervene in a potentially harmful situation. UNA wants to be on the forefront when it comes to educating our students on what it means to be an active bystander. Bystander intervention education will be provided throughout the academic year. In the meantime, students are encouraged to:

1 Recognize behaviors that might be high risk for violence or harm.

2 Attempt to help, but keep yourself safe. Methods of intervention may include:

- Directly intervening (check in with the person; do they need help?);
- Creating a distraction;
- Calling for help and delegating the situation to someone with more authority; and/or
- Checking in with the people involved, even after a delay.

HOW DO I FILE A TITLE IX COMPLAINT?

If you have experienced or observed discrimination or harassment, you have several options. First, you may file a report directly to the Office of Title IX or to the UNA Police Department. Additionally, faculty and staff are required by University Policy to report any observations of harassment (including online harassment) as well as any notice given by students or colleagues of any of the behaviors noted above. If you're not sure if you want to file an official report to Title IX, UNA offers several confidential reporting options. There, you can get advice and other resources, and if you make the decision to come forward with a formal report, they can also assist you.
