The library is using the mix of binding types and number of volumes listed below as an estimate only and is in no way bound to purchase any quantity as a result of this bid event. The library reserves the right to change the mix or number of volumes as needed. All prices will be firm for the period of this agreement, defined to be August 1, 2011 through July 31, 2012 (12 months).

SCOPE OF WORK

1. The binder will be required to maintain a "file", either by computer or manually, of all periodicals to be received from the library for binding. This file will be developed from a list provided by the library, containing all necessary information needed by the binder for each title to be bound (e.g. format, color, lettering, and special instructions). Also, the above-mentioned file will be used to supply multi-form slips for each title to the library. These bindery-produced slips will then be used by the library for all periodicals binding in place of blank bindery slips. The library will have only to complete these slips for the particular titles being sent in the shipment by indicating volume, issues, and years.
2. Color codes provided on the library list will be those presently being used by Collier Library. Any new binder will be expected not only to match colors being used, but also to change the codes on our list to match their own. (Color swatches with the current codes will be loaned for this process.)
3. Placement of lettering on the spines of periodical volumes will match that of the latest volumes having been bound. This is a standard for different heights and sample rubs will be provided by the library upon request.
4. The binder should make provision for the inclusion of multiple physical volumes of any title being sent during a shipment (e.g. extra slips per title) so that extra work will not be required by the library.
5. Procedures for first-time periodical titles will be worked out by the library and the binder at no extra cost to the library.
6. An adequate supply of multi-form binding slips will be provided by the binder to be used by the library in preparation for book binding (e.g. author, title, and color information).
7. "Cleat-laced" binding is not considered an acceptable method by the library for the binding of any materials. Therefore, this method is not to be considered in the quoted price or used on the quoted materials.
8. Newsprint items such as Times Literary and Educational Supplements which are 18 inches or under in height will be considered as regular periodicals with regard to binding and pricing.
9. The bidder must guarantee replacement of any lost, damaged or destroyed library periodicals or books. If replacement is not possible, a mutually agreeable amount of compensation will be determined.
10. The bidder will pick up and deliver by company vehicles; no commercial transportation will be permitted. The library expects to have one shipment per month, with the possible exception of September.

11. Representatives of the bidder will come to the Periodicals Department to pack binding (which will be ready except for packing) and will load their truck from this department. All returned binding will be delivered to a designated location in the library. All orders are to be processed and delivered back to the library within thirty (30) days from the date picked up.
12. Purchase orders itemizing each pickup will be issued and the billing must be itemized accordingly. Invoices will not be paid until binding has been returned to the library.
13. The binder will work from a pre-set pick-up and delivery schedule indicating the day of the week delivery/pickup will be made. Any variation of more than one working day from that schedule must be accompanied by ample advance notice. If in its judgment, the library determines the change in pick-up or delivery schedule to be inadequate, it bears no responsibility for availability of outgoing shipments or of staff to receive incoming shipments.
14. It is the responsibility of the vendor to coordinate shipment dates with school holidays, etc.
15. The bid term will run 12 months, from August 1, 2011 through July 31, 2012. Prices must remain consistent throughout this period.

All Prices must reflect F.O.B. University of North Alabama, Florence, AL 35632-0001

Verbal communication shall have no force or affect whatsoever toward the entire agreement. The terms of this bid can only be changed, altered, modified or amended by written agreement from both parties in an amended bid document.
